WHO'S THERE? NO REPLY—SHOT AS PROWLING THIEF

Thomas Savage, Aged 62, Fell Over Chair in Kitchen in the Dark and Failed to Answer Roomer Aroused.

BULLET ENTERED BREAST AND LODGED IN SPINE

Victim of Greenlea Place Tragedy Was Paralyzed From Shot and Probably Fatally Wounded—Joseph Sweeney Arrested.

Mistaken in his own home for a burglar, Thomas L. Savage, 62 years old, living at 4017 Grenlea place, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded at 1 a. m. Tuesday, by Joseph Sweeney, who occupies a room in the same house.

Savage had arisen at that hour and gone into the back yard. Upon returning into the house he stumbled over a chair in passing through the dark kitchen, and the noise of the falling chair awoke Sweeney, whose room immediately adjoins the kitchen.

Sweeney sprang out of bed, grasped his revolver and, running to the door opening into the kitchen, called out:

"Who's there?"

No answer came to his challenge and he instantly fired at the indistinct figure which he saw in the kitchen. Savage fell to the floor with a groan, the bullet having entered his left breast and lodged in the spinal column.

Dr. Meredith of 3903 Greenlea place found Savage's entire body was paralyzed from the effect of the injury to the spine. He says that Savage is probably fatally wounded.

Capt. Phillips of the Angelica Street Police Station was notified by telephone at 8 a. m., Tuesday, that a man had been shot at 4017 Greenlea place, but, supposing it was a Fourth of July minor accident, he did not send a policeman until 9:30. The details of the shooting were then learned and Sweeney, who was greatly shocked at having unwittingly shot Savage, was arrested.

BRUSH TORPEDOES FROM THE TRACKS

Motormen Use Brooms and Rags to Sweep Explosives Out of the Way.

The ingenuity of motormen developed Tuesday in their endeavors to overcome the efforts of celebrators to make the cars assist in exploding the torpedoes that lined the tracks of all street car

Great dynamite torpedoes that, when crushed under the wheels, exploded with a frightful noise, almost lifted the wheels from the tracks, and frightened timid passengers and disturbed others, were placed everywhere.

One motorman on the Suburban line fixed two brooms on his fender so that the ends of the straw touched the tracks on either side and swept away the torpedoes that had been carefully placed.

Another motorman, on the Olive street line had taken the legs of a pair of heavy old blue overalls and had torn them apart and fastened the pieces on the fender so that they swept each rail. The cloth had been wet, so that it was heavy enough to sweep the ear-splitting and nerve-racking combustibles from the rails.

PLACID FIFTH WILL BE FAIR

Forecaster Also Promises That Tonight Will Be Comfortable and Mild.

As, after a great battle—according to fiction at least—the sun rises in splendor and the day is beautifully calm, so it shall be with the Terrible Fourth. When the night breezes have carried away the smoke of the powder, the booming of the cannon; the fearful concussion of torpedoes on street railway tracks, and, less in volume, perhaps, but saddest, the groans of the injured, the dawn of July 5 shall be peaceful and beautiful.

So says the weather report.

"Fair tonight and tomorrow. Moderate temperature."

That is the official forecast.

Not alone in St. Louis shall this phenomenon to be witnessed. Weather of the same sort is forecasted for the greater part of this patriotic country of ours. Today it is fair throughout the Ohio Valley, the Atlantic and Gulf Coast States and most of the West.

The first patient to whom the treatment was administered was George Grossman, aged 15, 1220 South Broadway. The first finger of his right hand was lacerated by a blank cartridge.

At Children's Hospital.

Three Fourth of July accidents were treated at Children's Hospital Tuesday morning by Drs. Julius Rotteck and M. H. Morrow.

John Griffith, 11 years old, of 2231 Scott avenue, was brought to the hospital because of the explosion of his toy cannon, from which he received serious burns and lacerations about the face and hands, and may lose the sight of his right eye. He will be confined to the hospital for several days.

Thomas Gregory, 14 years old, of 2635 Adams street, had a burned and lacerated hand, owing to the explosion of a blank pistol.

Sam Moore, 9 years old, of Bernard street, was unfortunate enough to have a cannon cracker explode in his hand and was brought to the hospital, where precautionary measures against blood poisoning and tetanus were taken.

"TRAIN ROBBER SLYE OSLERIZED"

Chief Kiely Says Pardoned Crook Can't Harm Society.

"TOO OLD"—AGE 49 YEARS

Holiday Opens Penitentiary Gates for Participant in "Glendale Job."

"Slye is Oslerized, so to speak," said Chief of Police Kiely when he learned the train robber had been pardoned. "He is too old to harm society now," the Chief concluded.

Slye is 49 years old.

Following the holiday custom of pardoning the two oldest convicts in the penitentiary in point of servic, as a matter of prison discipline, Gov. Folk today released from the State Penitentiary Adelbert Slye, white, and June Hughes, a negro murderer.

Slye was sent to the penitentiary for the robbery of a Missouri Pacific train at Glendale, in which crime he was the partner of Marion Hedgepeth, who is still in the penitentiary.

Glendale Train Robbery Planned in St. Louis.

The Glendale train robbery was committed on the night of Nov. 30, 1891, half a mile west of Glendale, St. Louis County, a passenger train being stopped and the express car dynamited and robbed of $50,000. The police learned the robbery was committed by Marion C. Hedgepeth, Adelbert D. Slye, Dink Wilson and Jim Francis, with Mrs. Hedgepeth as a confederate, and was planned in a house at 4244 Swan avenue, St. Louis.

Slye was arrested Dec. 14, 1891, in Los Angeles, Cal., and $4000 recovered in his room. Hedgepeth was arrested in San Francisco, Feb. 10, 1892. Detective James Harvey of New York attempted to arrest Dink Wilson in Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 12, 1893, and was shot dead, Wilson being electrocuted for that crime Aug. 14, 1894, in Auburn Prison.

Jim Francis, in company with Charles Meyers, stopped a Missouri Pacific train at Lamar, Mo., Jan. 23, 1892, and was shot and killed. Sly pleaded guilty to the Glendale train robbery charge at Clayton, Feb. 23, 1892, and was sentenced to 20 years in the Missouri Penitentiary. Hedgepeth obtained a change of venue to St. Charles, and received a 25-year sentence shortly afterward. The case against Mrs. Hedgepeth was continued because of valuable information supplied by her to the police.

TO DROP 200 STREET CLEANERS

Commissioner Valliant Says It Is Necessary to Stay in Appropriation.

Street Commissioner Valliant has instructed his district superintendents to reduce their respective street-cleaning forces. At least 200 street laborers and a dozen or more overseers will be dropped from the payrolls as the result of this order.

Commissioner Valliant says it has been the custom of the department for years to reduce expenses in this manner during the summer months.

Removing the snow in the winter months and cleaning the streets, alleys and gutters in the spring eats up the appropriation for street cleaning.

Commissioner Valliant says the city is now in excellent condition. The department finds it necessary to economize in order to have enough left to clean the streets next fall and winter.

Street cleaners are paid $1.50 per day and the overseers receive $56 per month.

Killed by a Train.

The body of an unidentified man, killed by an Illinois Central train east of East St. Louis some time during the night, was brought to the city at 1 a. m., Tuesday and is now held at Walsh's undertaking establishment. An inquest will be held Tuesday evning by the coroner.

Capt. Crosby was a sharpshooter in the Confederate Army during the Civil War. He was one of the best known rivermen on the Mississippi.

DEVLIN'S DEBTS NOW ESTIMATED ABOVE $3,500,000

Investigation of Kansas Millionaire's Affairs Shows Liabilities Considerably Exceeding First Figures.

REALTY IS ATTACHED BY KANSAS CITY BANK

Missouri Concern Seeks Protection for Claim of $128,000—Creditors Plan to Look After Joint Interests.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 4.—Fuller investigation of the affairs of C. J. Devlin, the principal owners of the First National Bank of Topeka, which closed yesterday, indicate that the millionaire's total liabilities—either personal or through the companies of which he is almost the sole owner—will reach something over $3,500,000, considerably more than the first estimate.

The following is a complete list of liabilities, so far as known at present:

First National bank of Topeka, $1,200,000.

Central National Bank of Topeka, $300,000.

Bank of Topeka, $75,000.

Kansas City National Bank of Commerce, $100,000.

Kansas City American National Bank, $400,000.

City National Bank of Kansas City, $100,000.

Fourth National Bank of St. Louis, $200,000.

Central Trust Co. of Chicago, $50,000.

Corn Exchange Bank of Chicago, $100,000.

Continental Bank of Chicago, $50,000.

New York Trust Co. of New York, $50,000.

First National Bank of New York, $25,000.

These figures do not include an alleged liability of $710,000 to the Baltimore Trust Co., of which nothing is yet positively known, nor unknown small liabilities to Toluca and Spring Valley, Ill., banks.

The Kansas City National Bank of Commerce has begun attachment proceedings against all of Devlin's real estate here, its claims being already due or about to mature in a short time.

A meeting of creditors has been called here for tonight to consider plans for continuing the various Devlin concerns.

It is asserted that Devlin will himself shortly take active charge of all his business interests, and that he will be able to go to his office within a week. Persons well informed concerning his affairs say that the Kansas millionaire became hard pressed for funds as a result of his promotion of the Toluca & Spring Valley Railroad, which he recently commenced to build and which cost more money than he had anticipated.

"No depositor in the First National Bank of Topeka will lose a cent," said Mr. Devlin in a Topeka interview today. "I will give up everything I own in the world, if necessary, to make the bank pay dollar for dollar."

LAUNCH USED AS FLOATING SALOON

Policemen, as Detectives, Board It, Buy Beer, Arrest Captain.

A warrant charging Michael Weber, a saloon keeper at 2000 De Kalb street, with violation of the Sunday closing law was issued Tuesday on application of Policemen Rundle and Miller.

At the same time the policemen's report to the Chief of their detective work in making the case against Weber was given out. They allege that Weber tried to "dodge the lid" by using a gasoline launch as a Sunday saloon. They say they received Sunday a tip that Weber was making regular trips across the river from near the foot of Carroll street and in citizens' clothes they boarded the launch. They say when they were 75 feet from shore Weber took them to the stern of the boat, opened a locker filled with whisky and beer and told them:

"Boys, the lid is off; order what you want."

They paid 10 cents each ferriage and then bought six bottles of beer at different times. The last two they kept for evidence. When near the Illinois shore they say Weber ceased selling. They say in their report that Weber did not display a liquor license of any kind. There were several persons on board beside the policemen, and they say Weber sold to all who ordered.

Auto Hits Buggy.

Thrown into the roadside ditch near Forest Park Highlands Monday night, Charles Costello of 1017 North Sarah street and a young woman companion escaped serious injury when the buggy they were driving was struck by William J. Holbrook's automobile, which J. F. Taylor, chauffeur, was operating. The buggy was damaged and Costello led the horse back to town. His companion returned on a street car. Holbrook, who lives at the Buckingham Club, offered to pay for the damage to the vehicle.

Passing Conductor Saw Flame.

Hot ashes set fire at 1 a. m. Tuesday to a shed in the rear of the home of Police Sergt. Drissell at 2742 Osage street. A passing street car conductor saw the flame and called Drissell, but the house was not in danger. The shed was destroyed.

NAVAL RESERVE SAVES LIFE OF BOY SWIMMING IN RIVER

JOSEPH VESSEL.

Joseph Vessels Springs Into Mississippi and Prevents Samuel Barnholtz From Drowning.

Joseph Vessels, aged 21, 720 North Ninth street, by reason of naval training, was enabled to rescue Samuel Barnholtz, aged 15, 1121 North Eleventh street, Monday evening, when it seemed that the boy must surely drown.

The lad, while swimming in the Mississippi River at the foot of Carr street, was seized with cramps when thirty or forty feet from shore and in very deep water. Vessels was attracted by the shouts of his companions on the bank and ran straight for the water, without stopping to remove any garment. He caught his foot in an anchor chain lying in the street and two toes were painfully lacerated, but he ran on into the water.

Ten feet out he was forced to swim. He caught the struggling boy and swam back to shore with him.

Vessels found a barrel in Carr street and rolled the boy across this until the water was all out of his lungs.

The rescuer is a member of the Naval Reserves, located at Bissell Station, Levee and Ferry street. He served four years in the navy, most of the time on the cruiser Mohican, and was in the Philippines one year, returning to St. Louis two months ago.

BOY HIT BY CAR DODGING "CHASER"

Fred Reimann, Knocked Fifteen Feet, Has Concussion of the Brain.

Fred Reimann, aged 10, 3426 Indiana avenue, is at home suffering from a concussion of the brain, indirectly caused by his Fourth of July celebration.

He was playing with other boys at Indiana and Cherokee avenues Tuesday and the chief form of entertainment was "nigger chasers." In dodging one of these the boy ran in front of a Cherokee street car and was knocked 15 feet. Charles McDonnell, 2721 South Jefferson avenue, motorman of the car, attempted to stop it, but did not succeed.

The boy's injury, it is thought, may be serious.

SWINDLED THEM BY RENTING GAME

Prisoner Admits He Has Victimized Landladies of Boarding Houses.

In Charles A. Parker, alias Adams, arrested Tuesday by Detectives Killian and Cabanne, Chief Desmond thinks he has a man who has been practicing a unique swindle on boarding house keepers in various parts of the city.

Parker was arrested in his room at 3538 Page boulevard on suspicion, and when he was taken before Chief Desmond he admitted that he had swindled several women. His latest victim, he said, was a woman who kept a boarding house on Park avenue, but he could not recall her name nor did he remember the street number.

The police say that Parker's method was to enter a boarding house and tell the landlady that he had a large number of boarders that he would like to install with her. During the conversation it would develop that the house the woman was then occupying was not large enough, and he would so manipulate things that when the woman would take a larger house he would get the first month's rent. Parker said that by this method he fleeced the Park avenue woman out of $65. The police are now looking for this woman, and if found they will endeavor to get her to prosecute.

Parker said that he was sick and was trying to raise enough money to pay his way to Hot Springs. He was sent to the City Hospital.

DESTROYER AWAITS POTEMKIN'S RETURN; BATTLE IS IMMINENT

Engagement Between Battleship and Torpedo Boat Sent to Destroy Her Expected to Take Place Soon in the Harbor of Odessa—Night Attack by Imperial Forces Is Considered Probable.

REBELS REPORTED TO BE SHORT OF ALL SUPPLIES

Latest Accounts Say That Revolutionists Have Been Unable to Secure Water or Provisions at Kustenji and Have Been Forced to Return to Russian Waters—Midshipman Is Their Leader.

By the Associated Press.

BUCHAREST, Roumania, July 4.—Before the Kniaz Potemkin sailed for Kustenji a delegation from the crew handed the prefect a proclamation addressed to the representatives of the powers in Roumania, formally declaring war on all Russian vessels which refuse to join the mutineers. The proclamation says the Kniaz Potemkin will respect neutral territory and foreign shipping. The delegation requested that the proclamation be forwarded to the powers.

By Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 4.—A dispatch from Odessa says that the battleship Kniaz Potemkin has been sighted 20 miles off that port, for which she is bound.

The whereabouts of the torpedo boat Smetilvy is not known at Odessa, but there is good reason for believing that she is not far from the mutinous ship which she has been sent to sink, and an early engagement is looked for.

It is not thought probable that the Smetilvy will attack the Potemkin in daylight, unless it has reason to believe the report that the mutineers are without ammunition. It is considered more than probable that the Smetilvy will await until dark, and then endeavor to slip in and torpedo the big ship.

PARIS, July 4, 7:45 p. m.—A Constantinople dispatch to the Temps says that the Russian steamer Emperor Nicholas II, which had been ordered to proceed to Alexandria in place of Odessa, owing to the troubles at the latter place, was unable to leave Constantinople on account of a mutiny of the crew, who insisted on going to Odessa.

ODESSA, July 4.—The torpedo boat destroyer Smetilvy, manned by a volunteer crew, whose loyalty is assured, is searching for the mutinous battleship Kniaz Potemkin to torpedo her.

That piratical ship is still scouring the Black Sea.

The Smetilvy will be reinforced by other destroyers, two of which have arrived here. Others are expected. The Smetilvy's orders are: "Sink the Potemkin on sight."

The Potemkin, accompanied by a torpedo boat, left Kustenji, Roumania, at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. The mutineers asked for coal and provisions there, but got neither. They sailed for the north, toward Odessa.

After a long consultation, the naval authorities here decided that a torpedo boat could best cope with the Potemkin, as such a craft could be operated by a comparatively small number of picked men, who could probably be more relied upon to execute orders to sink a vessel containing their countrymen and comrades than could the larger crews of the larger vessels.

Still, their task is no easy one. The Potemkin is a very powerful vessel, practically a copy of the United States battleship Maine, and if fought by cruisers or battleships she would be more than a match for any two or three of the other Black Sea ships.

The Potemkin is being handled with the ability of desperation. The mutineers have maintained good order among themselves. The naval officers here declare admiringly that the midshipman commanding the Potemkin should be an Admiral. The ship's movements, in face of a superior force, have been masterly, they say.

Recent developments in connection with the mutiny on board the Georgi Pobiedonosetz confirm the report that the men on board her were scared into mutiny by those of the Kniaz Potemkin. They ceased their mutinous conduct at the first opportunity, when the Potemkin sailed away, which probably accounts for the fact that the majority of the crew were pardoned.

MUTINEERS SUFFERING FROM WANT OF WATER

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
Copyright, 1905, by Press Publishing Co. (New York World.)

LONDON, July 4.—The Braila (Roumania) correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, telegraphing Monday, says that the Kniaz Potemkin was refused water, which was greatly needed, at Kuntenji. She has sailed, although half of the crew were for surrendering to Roumania. It is believed that the crew will land in Russia, being compelled by thirst to adopt that course.

The captain of the port of Kuntenji, when visiting the Potemkin, found no sign of officers. The ship was commanded by a committee of 20 selected from the crew. An engineer cadet named Petroff says the revolt had been long planned by the revolutionary committee, and the death of the sailor Olemechtk was only an excuse for the uprising."

The Odessa correspondent of the Daily Mail wires: "I have learned from one who has been on board the Potemkin that about 10 civilian revolutionary leaders are on board. They demand freedom and the other items in the reform program.

"Members of the crew say that when the fleet approached them the Admiral signaled: 'Why don't you saluts me?'

To this no reply was made.

The Admiral signaled: "Surrender."

The Potemkin replied: "To whom?"

The answer was: "To the Emperor."

The Potemkin then asked: "What Emperor?"

The Admiral replied "Nicolaus II."

The final rejoinder of the Potemkin was: "We know no Emperor."

Last Sunday evening a proclamation was distributed among the troops in the town as follows:

"We address ourselves to both the army and the navy, with the request that they join in order to win freedom. We request peaceful citizens to leave the town, because we will destroy it. Long live liberty! Down with the monarchy!—Crew of Kniaz Potemkin."

JOHN H. MITCHELL, OREGON SENATOR, GUILTY OF FRAUD

Aged National Lawmaker Is Convicted on Charge of Conspiring to Cheat Government Out of Public Lands.

PRISONER COMMENDED TO THE COURT'S MERCY

Jurors Sympathetic Toward Man of 70, Who Has Four Times Represented State in the Upper House of Congress

PORTLAND, Ore., July 4.—Amidst a din and clatter of fireworks, exploded in honor of the natal day of the country he has served as United States Senator during 22 years of his life, John H. Mitchell listened to the words pronouncing him guilty of having violated that law which precluded him as a Federal office-holder from accepting pay for practicing before the departments of the Federal Government.

Those who witnessed the trial or who knew Senator Mitchell's great popularity in this State were so fully impressed with the belief that failure of the jury to come to an immediate end meant disagreement, that when it was announced that the jury had arrived at a decision hardly any but the little group of newspaper men remained.

With almost electrical swiftness, however, the news circulated and when the bailiffs who had been sent scurrying to bring to the court Judge De Haven, United States District Attorney Heney, Senator Mitchell and his attorneys, Judge Bennett and Senator Thurston, had notified the interested parties and had secured their presence, the room was more than comfortably filled.

Senator Mitchll was the first to arrive, then Judge De Haven and Judge Bennett. Mr. Heney was not present and Senator Thurston did not reach the courtroom until the verdict had been read.

Mitchell Almost Dazed.

Judge De Haven almost immediately directed that the jurors be brought in and they filed from the jury room to their box. The Judge inquired whether the verdict had been agreed on and Foreman Steiner replied that it had. The verdict was handed to the court in a sealed envelope. Judge De Haven tore open, read over the document and passed it to Clerk of the Court J. A. Sladen, who read it aloud. While the clerk was reading the verdict the noise on the outside had so increased that those in the room were able to catch but two phrases, "guilty," and "leniency of the court."

As the word "guilty" was pronounced Senator Mitchell seemed as though turned to stone. The nervous stroking of his beard, which had continued through the proceedings, stopped. Not a muscle twitched until Judge Bennett arose and asked that the jury be polled. When he sat down, Senator Mitchell leaned toward the attorney and whispered: "It was guilty."

As the poll proceeded, Senator Mitchell eyed each juror narrowly, hoping against hope that a negative would be heard from one of the 12 men. As one after another agreed to the verdict his lips drew closer and closer in the effort to steel himself against his evident disappointment.

As the last man answered "Yes," Judge Bennett arose and moved that the defendant be granted a new trial. Judge De Haven set the hearing of the motion for next Monday and then, after dismissing the jury, adjourned court.

The specific indictment on which Mitchell was convicted charges the aged lawmaker with accepting $2000 from S. A. D. Puter to use his influence to push through a bogus land claim held by Puter.

Mitchell is asserted by the prosecution to have known perfectly well that not only the Puter claim, but many others which he favored with his official influence, were fraudulent.

With him a large number of land claimants are under indictment, as are several Oregon officials of the Federal Government, among them Congressman Binger Hermann, who was Commissioner of the General Land Office at the time Mitchell is alleged to have violated his oath of office and the laws of the country by lending his aid to the perpetration of gigantic swindles.

Attorney Tanner, Mitchell's law partner, who was the Government's strongest witness against the Senator, testified that he received, ostensibly as legal fees, a considerable part of the money paid by the various land swindlers for the lawmaker's influence, and afterward divided it with the Senator himself.

For the offense of which Senator Mitchell has been convicted the penalty is fine, imprisonment or both and, of course, the loss of his seat in the United States Senate. It is expected that sentence will be pronounced tomorrow, but that an appeal will be taken is certain.

Senator Mitchell was indicted Dec. 31, 1904. He was notified of the charges against him while on his way to Washington, continued his trip, made so impassioned a speech in his own defense on the floor of the Senate as to bring tears to the eyes of many of his colleagues and to bring from most of them expressions of their good will and belief in his innocence, and then returned to face a trial.

The defense maintained that Tanner was threatened that he and his son would be indicted unless he testified against his partner. The prosecution denied that Tanner had been unduly coerced and District-Attorney Heney, in his closing argument for the Government, referred to the Senator's alleged offense as amounting practically to bribery—the acceptance of money from clients on both sides of the same case.

False affidavits, forced evidence and fictitious persons are asserted to have figured in the land frauds of complicity in which Mitchell has been convicted.

SHOOTS WIFE, NEIGHBOR, POLICE AND ESCAPES

William Gauder Goes on Warpath at Cincinnati to Avenge Death of Pet Cat and Badly Wounds Four People—Then Gets Away Pursued by 50 Policemen, to Wood Where He Commits Suicie.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CINCINNATI, O., July 4.—William Gauder, aged 47, a stonemason, on returning home from work, flew into a terrible passion on learning that his pet Thomas cat was dead and that it had been poisoned. He at once armed himself with two pistols and a shotgun and declared that he would kill the person responsible for Thomas' death.

His wife followed, begging him to stay at home and not to mind the cat's death. He turned and shot her. She is thought to be fatally hurt. A policeman named Fred Worth accosted him, and Gauder shot the policeman. Worth was wounded in arm and leg, not fatally. A man named Henry Smith was next shot by Gauder when Smith tried to stop him. Smith was slightly injured. An unknown man was shot in the head by Gauder and is supposed to be seriously wounded.

Hundreds were by this time in pursuit of Gauder. Chief of Police Millikken and about 50 policemen went to the scene of the shooting in a rush. Many shots were fired by the police at Gauder, but apparently none took effect. He escaped to a thickly wooded stretch of land near Undercliff, a suburb, where he committed suicide.

EQUITABLE INQUIRY BEGUN BY JEROME

Prosecutor Commences an Investigation of Alleged Crooked Deals.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 4.—James H. Hyde, formerly vice-president and chief owner of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, will sail for Europe in a few days, having first inquired of District Attorney Jerome whether there was any objection to his leaving.

The request was made of the District Attorney by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for Mr. Hyde, and in reply Mr. Jerome said Mr. Hyde could make the excursion, provided that should the District Attorney require his presence in New York any time during the coming summer he would promptly return.

Investigation of the affairs of the Equitable with a view to criminal prosecution has begun in earnest. While most of the financiers and lawyers of Wall street, as well as the officers of the society, were out of town on holidays over the Fourth, the District Attorney suddenly entered that region of high finance late yesterday afternoon. His presence was unlooked for, because Mr. Jerome had been scheduled to leave town on a Western tour to make speeches in Kansas with Thomas W. Lawson of Boston and the governors of Kansas, Missouri, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Gage E. Tarbell, Second Vice-President of the Equitable, had remained in his own office long after everybody else in the Equitable Building had departed. A few minutes after Mr. Jerome had reached his destination, Mr. Tarbell went to the same law office and remained there in conference with the District Attorney for an hour. When they emerged neither would speak concerning their conference.

This sudden movement by the District Attorney is part of a new plan to look into affairs of the Equitable himself and obtain first hand the evidence necessary to begin criminal prosecutions against the former officials of the company. He sent for Mr. Tarbell to question him.

But for his previously made arrangements to go West, Mr. Jerome would continue daily his investigation into Equitable affairs by requesting gentlemen connected with the society to meet him and tell what they know of financial corruption. This was the method employed by the District Attorney's office against gamblers last winter, who marched to the District Attorney's office one by one and confessed when they learned that they were at his mercy.

When Mr. Jerome returns to town next week there will be more interviews with other officials. It is intimated that matters have reached such a stage that ample evidence will be placed at his disposal.

Counsel for another of the Equitable's high officials already has had several conferences with Mr. Jerome in the interests of his clients.

The District Attorney does not intend to make a complete investigattion of all the Equitable's business. That is the duty of the State Superintendent of Insurance. He seeks only to secure evidence to establish a clear case of misuse of funds in some particular instances which will be laid before the grand jury. If indictments are returned the cases will be tried in the Criminal Court on these acts alone, without reference to general system prevailing in the society.

WHOLE VILLAGE IS MOVED

Houses Are Placed on Freight Cars and Wheeled Away—Many Difficulties.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BOLIVAR, O., July ..—Practically every building in the little lumbering town of Herring, Potter County, Pa., will be moved to Shingle House by rail. The distance is six miles. The work of transporting the buildings over the New York and Pennsylvania Railroad began a few days ago. There are six buildings in all. Three of them belong to C. A. Clark, and the others to G. W. Lyon and W. W. Martin. The buildings will be occupied at Shingle House.

The buildings were put on rollers and moved into the center of the railroad track, there jacked up and freight cars run under them. In making the trip to Shingle House many telephone and telegraph wires had to be cut, and at one point a water tank was moved to allow the buildings to pass. Three of the buildings have already been moved and the others will be transported to their new locations within a few days.

INFANT SUES FOR DIVORCE

Boy of 16 Asks for Divorce From Wife Whom He Wedded When She Was but 15.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July ..—There is pending in the New Jersey Court of Chancery a suit for divorce in which the interested persons are children, and the annulment of the marriage is sought by the boy husband on the ground that he is an infant in the eyes of the law. The plaintiff is Percy Elsworth Williams of Livingston, who alleges he was only 16 years old when, on June 14 of last year, he married Lola Marie Brokaw, who was then only 15.

They were pupils in the High School at Roseland, Essex County, N. J., when they decided to be married. They visited the Rev. Mr. Ferguson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, who refused to marry them, and then they called on Justice of the Peace Leo Kitchell, and after young Williams had said he was 21 years old and his girl bride had given her age as 18, the Justice performed the ceremony. They have since resided in the homes of their parents.

ROGERS RAPS THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Responsible for Unsatisfactory State of Public and Business Morals, He Says.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 4.—Howard J. Rogers, First Assistant Commissioner of Education of New York State, caused a sensation here at the national meeting of educators in his address by virtually saddling the unsatisfactory condition of public and businesss morals on the public schools.

With 20,000 educators already in possession, and more coming by every train, Asbury Park and Ocean Grove are swamped. When Dr. James M. Green of Trenton, N. J., former President, formally welcomed the National Educational Association to the emotional State of New Jersey—the only State in which George Washington was actually known to swear—the big Ocean Grove auditorium was filled to its capacity. The Coleman House, which is the national headquarters, is placarded like a village fair. The ballroom is turned over to departmental work. Illinois has captured one parlor, New York State another, Nebraska is at the head of the stairs and Minnesota just around the corner.

Many have had to walk the streets for hours before they could find where to lay their heads. They were no more unfortunate, however, than the Western delegation, which reached the park at 3 a. m. Sunday, after a joyous stopover in New York City.

The hotels frowned in the dark and locked up stillness which precedes the Sabbath morn, and the unfortunates had to spend the night on benches on the board walk.

Sunday the New York City baggage express companies had announced their inability to handle the immense overflow and the railroad station is in a state of siege, teachers demanding lost trunks, of which no account can be given. The shopkeepers have taken advantage of the situation and are doing more to swell indignation to the boiling point by notices like this:

"Don't worry about your trunks. Buy a pair of our special trousers and be happy."

Today it looks as if half of New York and nearby Jersey cities is here. Every train has arrived crowded.

Dr. William Maxwell, head of the New York City schools, delivered an important address. His view of the future of the public school will stretch the "fads and frills" to cover all the needs of our composite civilization. He said: "To retain the country boy on the land and to keep our soil from exhaustion, it is high time that all our rural schools turned their attention, as some of them have done, to scientific agriculture.

"Scientific agriculture practically taught is as necessary for the rural school as manual training for the city school, and trade schools also will inevitably come."

He prophesied also specialized schools for the foreign boys and girls just landed and ignorant of our language as well as for the confirmed truant and emboryo criminal.

According to United States Commissioner of Education W. T. Harris, professors and instructors in colleges and universities of this country have increased at the rate of 1000 a year since 1890. In public and private schools the increase has been 17,746. In the Commissioner's opinion the teacher on a $600 salary is bound to be indifferent. There are 47,362 who are drawing what he terms "salaries of respectability."

BRONZE FENCE IS STOLEN

Thieves Attack New York Residence and Even Take Stuff That Is Nailed.

NEW YORK, July ..—There is a suspicion in the minds of the members of Charles T. Yerkes' family, who are trembling behind barred doors in the brownstone mansion at Fifth avenue and Sixty-eighth street, that some of the Philadelphia Gas gang have headquarters in the neighborhood.

First, some one stole the bronze fence. Then some one stole the doorknobs.

Lately some one made an effort to elope with the bronze gates, but failed. The gate was too heavy.

Now it is locked up in the kitchen of the Yerkes home, watched by the cook and the hired man, and Mr. Yerkes is considering whether he shall take in the sidewalk o' nights to protect it from the robbers.

The police of the West Sixty-seventh Street Station say street hoodlums have been taking the Yerkes mansion piecemeal. Mr. Yerkes thinks it is several little black men about the size of Gulliver.

The bronze fence around the Yerkes home is ornate and costly; that is, it was ornate before the robbers got part of it.

The expensive metal was worked into antique shapes and supported at regular intervals by heavy brownstone pillars. The thieves broke out pieces of the metal, removed the bronze supports, wrenched doorknobs off and even dug the bronze push-button out of the side of the house.

Visited by Burglars.

Richard J. Welch and family, after an absence since June 24, returned to their home, 6490 Plymouth avenue, St. Louis County, and found that burglars had visited the house while they were gone. Silverware valued at $300 is missing. The St. Louis police were notified.

JANITOR TURNS ON FULL STEAM IN APARTMENTS

On Hottest Summer Day He Remembered a Complaint That Tenants Had Made of the Cold Last Winter.

INMATES FLEE FROM OVERHEATED BUILDING

All Hot Water Faucets Had to Be Turned On in All Rooms to Prevent Blowing Up Boilers of Heater.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 4.—While this city swelters in torrid heat a janitor has been adding to the discomfort of many by making steam heat for a flat building as it was never known there in the coldest zero weather.

They call the place the parboiled flats, although its real estate name is the Cameron apartments. It is situated at St. Nicholas avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street.

Radiators sizzled and geysers burst out through safety valves. The flat dwellers rolled out of bed in wreaths of scalding vapor. All the house was in an uproar and at least 10 persons feared they were being boiled alive. Several put their heads out of the windows and called for help.

Clouds of steam filled the halls and the pipes in the partitions and shafts thumped and wheezed.

Some of the tenants, who did not realize that the heat was being turned on more than it had been on the coldest winter day, scented a sirocco and sat by the open windows panting for breath. Two or three who stepped in the flood of hot water from the radiators whistled downstairs and got no response.

Another telephoned to the police that there was something wrong with the Cameron and asked for help. Sergt. Fitzgerald of the West 125th street station sent Policeman Grace to investigate.

In the cellar he found the janitor walking up and down, talking to himself. His gait was unsteady and he seemed to be under such mental stress that his utterance was unusually thick, even for an apartment house engineer.

"So they wanted heat, did they?" he muttered. "Wanted heat? All of them been coming down this winter saying they were freezing to death. They get heat now. Fifty families in the house and none freeze as long as I run things."

"What do you think you are doing?" said Grace. "This isn't a Turkish bath."

"Cut it off," said the policeman. The janitor did things to a few valves and in a minute tenants began running out of various refugees, saying that they could not stand it any longer, for the place was getting hotter and hotter every minute.

"You're turning on more," said the policeman. "I've a mind to warm you up with this club."

Jeremiah Berry, the superintendent of the building, was called.

"Let him alone, for the love of heaven," said he. "He will blow himself up. Say, what has become of the water gauge?"

The policeman retreated up the stairs. The superintendent telephoned to the tenants to turn on the hot water at every faucet in sight.

"If you don't," he added, "the boiler will be up through the roof in about a minute."

McMillan was arrested on a charge of intoxication and taken to a cool cell.

Sir Thomas Will Try Again.

LONDON, July 4.—It is said that Alfred Mylne will be engaged by Sir Thomas Lipton to design a yacht to compete for the America's cup.

Mylne was the partner of the late George L. Watson and it is announced that he has the assistance of all the plans recently used by the deceased designer to aid Sir Thomas in his fourth attempt to bring the coveted trophy to Britain shores.

Sir Thomas declared some time ago that he would wait and see what was the performance of the Britomart a boat designed by Mylne for the purpose of meeting Herreshoff's Sonya, and this gives strength to the rumors that he will again compete for the cup.

Lajoie's Injury Serious.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, July 4.—An examination of the injured left ankle of Napoleon Lajoie, the manager of the Cleveland baseball team, revealed that his ankle is injured more seriously than at first supposed. Lajoie was spiked by O'Leary of Detroit in Friday's game, but as the wound did not hurt him he gave no attention to it. The leg began to pain him Sunday at St. Louis and an investigation showed that blood poisoning had been induced by the dye from his stocking. Prompt medical attention is supposed to have prevented further complications, although, by his physician's orders, Lajoie will be out of the game for at least five days and possibly longer. Kahl will cover second base in his absence.

SEARCHES CANADA FOR HER CHILDREN

Mrs. Barnett of Des Moines Believes Valley Junction Woman Kidnaped Them.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DES MOINES, July 4.—Her children by a former marriage torn ruthlessly from her and then disappearing in the care of a stranger, Mrs. Earnest Johnson of Des Moines, mother of the Hull children, has returned from La Portage, Ontario, where she succeeded in tracing her children. The children, who disappeared with Miss Lillian Barnett of Valley Junction six months ago, are believed by the mother to be tramping through Canada with nothing to eat except crusts, and nothing to wear except the rags in which they appear, while begging on the streets.

"Oh, I know I was on the right track," said Mrs. Johnson, as she sighed over the loss of her children. "I traced those children from town to town until I struck La Portage, and then I lost the trail and could not discover where they went."

Mrs. Johnson went first to Emerson, Canada, where she learned there were two children with a woman who were begging on the streets, and from scraps of conversation, disclosed the fact that they were from Iowa.

"I followed the trail as close as I could," continued the frantic mother. "I left Emerson in company with the Chief of Police and we went at once to Winnipeg. We found that the two children had been there. We learned that they had gone presumably to La Portage, Ont., where they were then said to be.

"I was told that the little ones had hardly anything to wear and that they were given just toast and milk to eat. I am afraid that the poor little ones are starving.

"O, to think that they are even being made to beg on the streets. I do not know how to ever get them."

The Hull children disappeared from Des Moines the day the District Court signed an order giving them into the possession of their parents after an attempt had been made to take them away and give them in the custody of others. Miss Lillian Barnett, a school teacher of Valley Junction, had the children and ran away, taking them with her. The father and mother have expended considerable sums in searching for their offspring.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are certain that the children are in Canada and that Miss Barnett has become insane over her affection for them.

DOG CAUSES RUNAWAY.

Animal Attacks Pony Mistress Is Driving and Woman Seriously Injured.

TRENTON, N. J., July 1.—Mrs. Clarence Toms is in a critical condition as the result of the jealousy of her pet dog, a fox terrier, which she took out with her in a dogcart as she started out to try a white pony belonging to a friend of her husband.

The dog jumped out of the cart within a block of the house and attacked the heels of the pony. The pony was a strong one and gave Mrs. Toms a severe fight, but, being an expert driver, she kept the animal well in hand.

The terrier then changed its tactics and seized the long white tail of the pony, to which it clung even while the animal was running away at top speed. Mrs. Toms lost control of the pony, which swerved into a sidewalk. She was hurled out headforemost against a large tree. When picked up she was bleeding from the nose and ears. She was attended by three physicians, who as yet are unable to tell the exact nature of her injuries. It is feared her skull is fractured and that she is injured internally.

HURLED BY CAR; DIED OF INJURIES

Unidentified Man Struck on Delmar, Picked Up With Fractured Skull.

CAR CARRIES ITS VICTIM

After Long Trip Patient Taken to Doctor Who Ordered Ambulance.

A west-bound Delmar car when within about 100 feet of Clara avenue on Delmar, at 12:30 a. m. Tuesday, struck an unidentified man who had attempted to cross the track at that point and knocked him almost to the curb. He was picked up unconscious by the car crew.

He was placed in the car by Conductor A. W. Scott of 4299 Finney avenue and Motorman C. S. Stelvly of 4296 Finney avenue and taken to the office of Dr. A. V. L. Brokaw, 536 North Taylor avenue, this presumably meaning that the car completed its run to the Delmar Garden loop and reached the physician's office on its return trip, and it was then found that the victim was suffering from a fractured skull. He was taken to the City Hospital, where he died at 2 a. m. without having regained consciousness.

No papers revealing his identity were found. He is described as being about 50 years old, 5 feet 8 inches in height, weighing 140 pounds, with gray eyes, stubby gray mustache, dark complexion, wearing a dark gray coat and vest, gray trousers with red stripes, black laced shoes, No. 8, black socks with the initial E worked in them, a shirt with a heavy blue stripe and heavy woolen underwear. In his pockets were found a pair of scissors and a small file, and a needle was in the lapel of his coat, indicating, perhaps that he was a bachelor or widower. The body is at the Morgue awaiting identification.

The car crew say that the man started across the street too late for the car to be stopped in time to avoid striking him. He acted, they say, as if he did not see the car approaching him.

GIRL SHOOTS HERSELF.

Bullet Narrowly Misses Heart, but She May Die.

Mary Wetmeyer, 22 years old, shot herself Tuesday in her room at 813 South Sixth street. The bullet entered the left breast just above the heart, missing that organ by about an inch.

She was taken to City Hospital, where physicians operated on her and expressed a doubt as to her recovery.

The girl had been despondent for some days, other occupants of the house say, and had been threatening to kill herself. The pistol had been taken from her and hidden, but she found it and shot herself while alone.

BUSINESS GIANT NOW.

Success of J. Walter Thompson Co., Advertising Agents.

The growth of the J. Walter Thompson Co., general advertising agents, has been so continuous since its origin that it has been compelled to move to larger headquarters, Twenty-third and Fourth avenue, New York City.

While in business half of a century the company has become a business giant and there is only one explanation that the company can make, and that is business success. And behind any business success there must be superior qualifications and equipment for the character of the business engaged in.

A common expression and illustration is that of a man who, should he not stop growing, would become a giant of giants. Likewise a company that has been growing for half a century and is continuing to grow, must become a giant in business.

From the old offices in the old Times Building to the new, where they have 12,000 square feet of floor space, the company has every accommodation and the necessary working and breathing space. The new offices reflect the present successful and profitable conduct of business for a clientele of more than 800 active customers, many of whom are numbered among the largest and most successful advertisers in the country.

FRENCH REFUGEE GUERIN BOLDLY WALKS STREET

Remarkable Criminal Goes About New York, Visiting Friends and Talks to Members of Detective Force.

SUPPOSED TO HAVE SHEEDY'S PROTECTION

Made Daring Escape From Life Servitude on Devil's Island for Robbing Bank of Lyons and American Express Co.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Edward Guerin, one of the most remarkable criminals in modern history, and a man for whom police and secret service detectives have been searching since May 1, is in New York City. He is walking Broadway, visiting old friends, attending the roof gardens and theaters and has actually discussed his own case with Police Commissioner McAdoo's astute headquarters men.

It is hinted that Pat Sheedy, who knew Guerin when he was a boy, in Chicago, is behind a powerful clique that has sworn to keep Guerin from again falling into the clutches of the police.

Guerin was serving a life sentence in the French penal colony on Devil's Island. He had been sentenced in Paris in 1901 for robbing the American Express Co. there of 30,000 francs. As he had robbed the Bank of Lyons, France, 10 years ago of $50,000, the French Government gave him the maximum penalty, which was life.

In prison he met Tom O'Brien, who killed Waddell, and the two planned escape. The chance came to O'Brien but he failed and died later with Guerin at his side.

Then came the most remarkable incident in Guerin's life. In early youth he is said to have saved the life of a man now high in political life. This man told Sheedy of Guerin's fate. Sheedy was absent on a foreign tour two years.

When he got back he went to Washington. About the same time the French Government was communicated by the State Department and Eddie Guerin, burglar, alleged murderer, bank robber, was the subject of international correspondence.

Sheedy and the politicians declare that Guerin was innocent of the Paris robbery. France, it is said, replied that Guerin was guilty.

It is known that the late Secretary Hay had in his possession a letter from the French Government at Washington, which had been sent by Sheedy to Guerin telling him not to try to escape, but to wait until "pardon day, July 14, 1906."

The discovery of this letter is said to have injured Guerin's chance of pardon. In 1904, about the time that Sheedy was reported to be in San Francisco, Guerin became ill and was, through some secret influence, transferred to the mainland, French Guiana.

On May 1 Guerin was outside the lines and on his way through the swamps provided with food and armed. The fugitive was captured and robbed by Indians before he got to Dutch Guiana, 200 miles north. The Indians left him for dead on the outskirts of Paramaibo, in Dutch Guiana.

Here, strange to relate, he was found by two Americans, one a friend of Sheedy and the other a consular agent. The outlaw was fed and clothed and at Georgetown, in British Guiana, he was treated by a physician until he was able to sail under the name of James Harrison for New York.

Seven weeks ago Guerin, reduced to a skeleton, arrived in New York. At the same time the State Department was apprised of Guerin's escape and an agent was sent to try to find him. The agent failed to locate his man.

Since then Guerin has been around New York. A few days ago he had a chat with George Considine in the Metropole. The same night he had a lively chat with a McAdoo sleuth, who told him he would like to arrest Guerin for "the glory in it."

LEE BURIED IN MEXICO.

Two years must elapse before the body of Harry B. Lee of 1230 Armstrong avenue can be brought home from Durango, Mexico, according to the Mexican law, which makes burial within 24 hours imperative and disinterment in less than two years a misdemeanor.

Samuel R. Stevenson of 3809 Lee avenue, chief accountant for the Terminal, returned Monday from Durango. He, with Lee, his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Lee, whom Lee was visiting, and an American resident, Joe Ashley, were at a picnic 10 miles from Durango when a revolver belonging to Ashley was discharged as Ashley was loading it. The bullet struck Lee above the knee and, ranging upwards, lodged in Lee's abdomen. He died in five minutes. Ashley was shot through the hand and is in a serious condition from blood poisoning.

A memorial service will be conducted in Lee's honor by Clifton Heights Masonic Lodge, of which he was a member. Masons in Durango conducted the service there. Lee was private secretary to A. S. Johnson, freight agent of the Terminal Association.

Autos Stalled in Storm.

Sunday's big rain storm broke up a mortor car party chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Baker of Keokuk, Io., which left there Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and became stranded in the rain and mud at Bowen, Ill., 50 miles out.

The touring autoists left their machines at Bowen and proceeded to St. Louis by rail, registering at the Planters' Hotel Monday.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Baker, the party included Misses Irwin, La Foste and Warr and Messrs. F. Lee Brown Jr., F. F. Dunlap and M. F. Baker.

PHILADELPHIA RAIDS CAUSE PITIFUL SCENES

Scores of Representatives of the Best Families, Men, Women, Boys and Girls Caught in Police Dragnet in Tenderloin District—Blasted Reputations, Divorces and Scandals Sure to Follow.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, July 4.—The Tenderloin of this city has been practically wiped out and with it have come the most startling and pitiful scandals in the most aristocratic society circles, as well as among the less prominent.

Philadelphia is stirred as it has not been stirred before for a quarter of a century.

For in a police raid, in which 105 resorts were entered, 565 prisoners were captured, there were men and women whose names adorn the bluebook of society, who are well-known figures in Newport, New York and Paris and who had to use all their finesse and influence to keep their highly respected names from being trailed in the mire. That there will come an aftermath of divorce and scandal, few who are cognizant of the facts can doubt.

Of the 565 prisoners captured, over 400 are still in jail. They consist of clubmen, lawyers, business men, whose names are known throughout the city, sports and high-flyers, young scions of society from the Germantown section, and, sad to relate, in some instances, their sisters and their cousins and their aunts.

For 48 hours there has been a continual struggle to obtain bail, and to cover up scandals. Gilt-edged security is required and where this is not forthcoming there is nothing doing. Professional bondsmen with their straw bail are not recognized.

Real Names Never Given.

In not a single instance did the men or women prisoners of good repute give their real names. As is always the case, the women got by far the hardest deal. A man of prominence would be called to the bar only to give the fictitious name and fade away with a $10 fine.

In every case the woman, no matter of what family or reputation, was looked upon as an "inmate" and fined $300. In nine cases out of ten there was no bail forthcoming and the better ones would be led weeping back to their cells. Many of them were of good families; many were married, and many were visitors to the city. There were heart-breaking revelations when they were forced openly to attempt to get bail. But all the tears, moans and hysterics from the better ones and curses and sallies from the hardened old-timers looked alike to the police.

In a very few instances the magistrates allowed themselves to be swayed by the pleading of young girls whose appearance indicated that they were not beyond reformation. But, generally speaking, no pull was sufficient to obtain release, and every one arrested was compelled to answer charges.

Absolutely no mercy was shown. Rich and poor, old offenders and young, were scooped up in the same net and carted away to jail. The police were frank in their brutality. They realized that they were killing their own graft and the incidental slaughter of half a hundred fine old Quaker reputations was meat and drink for them. It was a curious sight to see men of wealth and influence in the city walking up to the magistrate courts to proffer bail for relatives or friends caught in the raid.

A tall, beautiful girl, who had been caught in a Thirteenth street house with an escort, was called before Magistrate Eisenbrown. She wore a white dress and her face was swatched in an automobile veil.

"What is your name?" asked the Magistrate.

The girl seemed past all feeling. She stood as white as marble, without replying. The Magistrate repeated the question.

"I shall give you no name," replied the girl with a dry, convulsive sob. "It's all over now and can do no good. It will be death for me in the end and death for my parents. I will only say that I was engaged to be married. I still feel that I am a good woman. It is too late to ask for mercy—O, my God, too late!"

"Officer, did you ever see this woman before?" asked the Magistrate.

"Yes, Your Honor," whispered the officer. "She lives at No. —— —— street. She is the daughter of —— ——."

"Take her away, quick. Put her in a carriage and send her home," said the horrified Magistrate.

"I'll attend to that if Your Honor will permit," said a young man who had been standing near the railing. He had been the girl's escort. He had paid his $10 fine, but had remained around the building for six hours, waiting for the young woman's turn to be called and trying in vain to get bail for her secretly.

"I'll bet they'll call on a clergyman before they get home," said the policeman sententiously.

Close behind the automobile, unknown, came two young girls as you may see behind the counters of large department stores. They were red-eyed from weeping and looked extremely unhappy and disheveled. One of them still maintained a wad of gum which she chewed between sobs.

"Well, what have you to say?" inquired the Magistrate, not unkindly as though pulled by a string. Both girls began to weep bitterly.

"We did not mean any harm and did not know where we were," wept the taller of the two. "O, please let us go home."

"Have you any friends who will be responsible for you?"

"O, yes, sir. We both have good homes, but we wouldn't like our parents to know. We can send for our friends."

"Take them back, officer. I will give them until tomorrow to get bail."

In the meantime a continual moaning and shuffling was kept up in rear of the courtroom. Ejaculations such as "O, God, Judge, please let me go; I've got a husband at home!" or "I'm married, Judge, and a respectable woman."

A little red-haired woman cried: "I was lured there, Judge. I did not know what kind of a place it was."

Eight or ten members of the Bermuda Cricket Club visiting the city were caught in the raid. They paid their fines manfully and departed.

So the endless pathetic panorama of the city's vice dragged on into infinitude.

Two men in evening dress paid their own fines hurriedly and departed. Two aristocratic-looking married women with whom they had been found in a resort were called soon afterward. Long exposure to the hardships of the raid had worn them into a condition of semi-stupor. The finery they had worn on the previous night looked sadly out of place in this zone of gruesome smells and sounds. They had wept until they were tearless, and had begged for freedom until they were apathetic. They, too, were sent back to wait for bail, which was brought by their two escorts.

Shakeup in Society Next.

It seems likely now that the tempest caused by this raid will increase instead of diminish. It is even whispered that the ramifications of it will reach the fashionable Quaker City colony at Newport. It is certain that many were caught, whose names in connection with the raids would horrify all Philadelphia. But these names are guarded with scrupulous care, both by the police and the magistrates. In several cases where names were known to be false they were put down in the records without change for the purpose of protecting the families concerned.

Altogether, there were 105 resorts of high and low degree raided by the police, among them two which had never been molested during the palmy days of Durham and his gang, and which were known to be under the protection of two legislators.

Of the women who could not find bail, 154 were sent to jail at Moyamensing. All the others will follow as soon as they have demonstrated their inability to secure bail.

The raid came in the nature of a thunderbolt, both to those who were captured and to those in charge of the city prisons. The scene in the Central Station when the prisoners began to come in was most extraordinary. The prison pens were fairly filled with plain drunks before the patrol wagons began to arrive with those taken in the raid.

The entire number of prisoners was huddled into a space intended for less than one-tenth of their number. The half dozen cells in the woman's department were soon jammed with sobbing, swearing, semi-hysterical women, and then came an overflow into the corridor where 200 more were soon crowded.

The air soon became foul and vitiated. There were cries for water, for whisky, for cigarettes.

There were shrieks for freedom and prayers for death. There was nothing to eat and practically nothing to drink. Some sang ribald songs and threatened the police. There was no attempt to separate the wheat from the chaff or the old criminals from the novices. The men, being stronger, were better able to bear the privations.

"Take every person you find, regardless of color, prominence, position, sex or age," was virtually the text of the raiding order. "And we did it," said one of the police officers, mopping his brow in the courtroom.

"Why we got women and men we all know, but we didn't dare let them go. They gave the names of Mrs. Jones or Mrs. Green, or Mr. Smith, and the like, but, of course, we did not say anything. It seemed too much like rubbing it in. But we know them all, and you bet there will be a fine bunch of divorces on the docket this summer.

"Why, I saw one girl who goes about the city in her own automobile, driven by a high-priced chauffeur. She goes in the best society in the city. But the Court will never expose her, nor will we. She was very game. She did not scream or cry. She just uleted down like as though she was dying, and didn't even ask us to help her. I felt sorrier for her than for all the other bunch, because I knew who she was. She got bail all right."

The Law and Order Society were evidently very sure of their facts before inaugurating the raid. Not over 10 in every 100 were released. To carry out the plans of the Law and Order Society Supt. Taylor devised the most remarkable plans for the raid ever known to the police department of any city in this country.

He entirely discarded the use of the department's telegraph service to communicate tidings of the raid. Experience had taught him that any such expedients by the police in late years had failed because of a "leak" in the department's telegraph service. Instead he gave no intimation of a raid until a few hours before he was ready to begin operations.

On Saturday Detective Potter handed to Supt. Potter descriptive warrants sworn out on evidence rendered by the Law Order agents.

About 10 o'clock Saturday night Supt. Taylor determined that more than 400 patrolmen, Sergeants and Lieutenants were necessary to insure the success of the great raid. These were quickly assembled and the raid followed.

THEODORE PRICE IS AGAIN KING OF COTTON MARKET

Unparalleled Advance of 100 Points in the White Staple's Quotations Makes Dethroned Speculator Successor to Sully

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Leaping upward a hundred points in 5 minutes yesterday, cotton carried the fortune of Theodore H. Price, the former "Cotton King," well toward the million mark, and established his position once again as dominating the white staple market. It was a sensational day, in which prices loomed above all others.

Rarely has finance and commerce been so intricately mingled with romance as in the case of Theodore H. Price. Five years ago he was dragged from his throne as the "cotton king" within four days of his wedding, and instead of bringing to his wife a fortune well in the millions, he started away with her on a honeymoon marked by only so much lavishness as $1000 could furnish.

Since that time Price has made and lost money; has fought the uphill fight of the man without capital who tries to regain a position once lost in Wall street, but has steadily gained toward the goal of his ambition.

He has paid off $2,000,000 of debts contracted when the firm of Price, McCormick & Co. failed, since May 2, 1900, and every penny of the $750,000 made by him yesterday belongs to him alone. For five years he has been working for his creditors.

Yesterday's jump in cotton was due to the receipt of the Government report from Washington, which showed a most unfavorable cotton condition.

The pit of the Cotton Exchange appeared filled with maniacs.

Never within the recollection of the oldest member had cotton jumped a cent a pound in price in five minutes, and the flurry that followed made the ordinary routine business impossible. The figures of the report flashed an instantaneous photograph upon the brains of the cotton brokers.

Theodore H. Price's agents were everywhere, and they bought cotton as fast as their orders could be recorded, adding to the holdings already in his possession. Once again he had ascended to the throne vacated by Daniel Sully a year ago, and which he himself had occupied once before five years ago. He became the leader in the great bull campaign which was made ready to his hand by the Government.

It is known that Monday morning Mr. Price held 60,000 bales, bought at $7.50, and at the closing price of $10.50 on those alone he had earned a profit of $750,000.

Mr. Price's profits are still on paper, but it is believed that there is no indication that he has any cause to worry. With the cotton crop at least 2,500,000 bales short of what the world will demand, there is but slight chance of the price falling to reach 13, or even 15 cents a pound. In the Cotton Exchange there is even talk of 20-cent cotton, and those who talk of it are not regarded as visionary. What this means to the farmers of the South can hardly be estimated. They are now in a position to hold their cotton, and will reap the profits of the upward movement. It may mean ruin to the spinners of New England and Manchester, but the lesson of two years ago should have taught these not to make contract far ahead, in view of the very narrow margin of production.

The present bull movement is due to natural causes. No one man, no pool, is back of the present conditions. Cotton is leaping upward in price because there is not enough in sight to meet the demand.

Polite Period.

"It seems," remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "that the Japan-Russia war has about reached the 'Alphonse and Gaston' period."

MAN AND WOMAN BATTLE TO DEATH WITH REVOLVERS

C. S. H. Asterson Dying and Mrs. Ethel Goetz Dead as Result of Murderous Duel on a Milwaukee Thoroughfare.

BIG CROWD WATCHES DESPERATE CONFLICT

Throng Stands By, Gaping and Powerless to Interfere While Bullets Fly—Love Affair Cause of the Tragedy.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 4.—Shot in a duel in the sight of hundreds, the body of Mrs. Ethel Goetz lies at the Morgue as the result of a sensational duel with a man with whom she was involved in a love affair.

Mrs. Folly Wallace, her mother, was shot in the shoulder, but will recover. Oscar Goetz, aged 17 years, her brother-in-law, was shot in the body and will probably die.

Charles S. H. Asterson, a walking delegate for the Seamen's Union, whose unrequited love was the cause of the murder, was shot three times in the body, twice through the lungs, and once just below the heart, and will probably die.

The shooting took place in the apartments of Mrs. Goetz, and was due to the refusal of her sister, Lulu Wallace, to marry Asterson. He called to kill the girl, it is charged, but found her missing. Mrs. Goetz, who had persuaded her sister to reject Asterson, was there instead, with her mother. Asterson entered the apartments and demanded the girl. Before he could be answered he drew his revolver and shot Mrs. Wallace. The man ran to the street door to escape, but Mrs. Goetz had run to her husband's room and secured his revolver. She followed Asterson to the street and began firing. Meanwhile a crowd had gathered.

The Goetz apartment is within a block of the main business corner of the city. Hundreds of people attracted to the scene by the woman's screams rushed up to the spot just in time to see her level the revolver at Asterson and fire four times. Three of the bullets took effect. Asterson returned the fire, both standing in the open, and as the woman's third shot struck him a bullet from his pistol struck her forehead. She started on the run for the east side of the street. Her husband was about to step out of his store, when his wife tumbled into his arms.

"Charley did it" was all she could gasp, as her eyes closed in death. With a piercing cry the husband clasped her tighter in his arms, then, overcome by her death struggles, he allowed her to roll into the arms of Charles Dahlke, who happened to be standing at his side. She was dead, a crowd of 3000 having seen her dying struggles.

Asterson then fired another shot at the dead woman's brother, wounding him. Then he tried to escape, but detectives had arrived and he was taken to police headquarters, then to a hospital, where it is reported he may not live 24 hours.

THIEVES CELEBRATE GLORIOUS FOURTH

Hardware Dealers' Safe Robbed of $505 and Dry Goods Store of $300.

DR. W. B. WINN ROBBED

Sneakthief Takes His Valise Containing Army Commission and Diplomas.

While the Police Department kept itself pretty busy Monday and Monday night with destructive young—and otherwise—patriots bent on destroying property out of enthusiasm, the burglars, sneak thieves, second-story artists, highwaymen and others of the kind were busy.

The combination safe of Sigolof Bros., hardware dealers, 812 Franklin avenue, was found Monday to have been entered by a burglar, who departed with $505 that had been kept in an inner safe of the big safe. The combination was not injured in the least, nor was the lock of the inner safe broken.

Not so clever were the thieves that took $30 from the cash register of William Kronsbein, saloonist at 919 Madison street, early Tuesday morning. They did $30 damages by knocking over glassware and breaking bottles of costly liquors. A watchman chased two men from the premises, but they escaped after running a block.

Policemen Salvy and Coulter of the Central Station, passing the store of the Noyes News Co., 216 South Eighteenth street, at 3 a. m., saw a broken window. They found 27 boxes of cigars in the lot adjoining the building and decided to await the return of the burglars. They say that Frank Conroy, 3404 Lawton avenue; Barney McGuire, 3004 Adams street, and Henry Medina, 2823 Walnut street, entered the lot at 4 a. m. and were bending over the boxes when arrested. The men say they were passing through the lot and knew nothing of the matter. They were held for further investigation.

Burglars entered the dry goods store of J. Krause, 7 South Sixth street, by way of the basement of a saloon next door, cutting an entrance through the wooden partition. Men's wearing apparel valued at $30 was taken.

Robbed of Diplomas.

A sneak thief removed a valise from the room of Dr. William B. Winn at the St. James Hotel. It contained his commission as Surgeon-Major of United States Volunteers during the Spanish-American War, his diplomas and other papers which he dislikes to lose.

Ben W. Sackmeyer, 211 Biddle street, with his wife, waiting for a train at Union Station, during the excursion rush Monday, sat his grip down and took his eyes off it for a moment. He lost about $200 in jewelry and considerable clothing, he says.

Andrew J. Parks, rooming at 1610 Pine street, reported the disappearance of $5 in cash, a suit of clothes and pistol, taken from the room while he slept.

Otto A. Dresersekey, 4390 Olive street, was likewise asleep when somebody wandered away with $15 and a watch belonging to him. Entrance was gained to the room through a transom.

Joseph Stanowsky, 927 Shenandoah avenue, entered the attic at 2 a. m. to find a man in the act of throwing a feather bed out of the window. The man was barefoot and swift. He dodged past Stanowsky and ran downstairs to the second floor. Then he jumped to the street, 15 feet below. Stanowsky chased him to 2214 South Tenth street, where he escaped through a dark alley.

Tony Yenashowitz, cook on the steamer Bald Eagle, walking west on Walnut street, at the intersection with Eighth street, was robbed at 5 p. m. Monday, so he reported to the police. He says that three men choked him and took 75 cents from his pocket. In their haste they allowed $1.50 to remain in the same pocket, he says. Yenashowitz ran to the Four Courts and reported the case to Sergt. Harlan, who detailed Policeman Delaney to accompany Yenashowitz. At the same corner the latter pointed out Edward Reilly, 1314 North Fourteenth street; William Reilly, 923 Market, and Henry Smith, 710 Market street, as the men who had assaulted and robbed him. They denied having seen him before, but were locked up.

WIRE THREW THREE MEN

One May Die as Result of Fall From Scaffold.

Three electricians in the employ of the St. Louis Car Co. were injured and one of them may die as the result of an accident at the Baden waterworks station Monday evening. Elmer Knapp, aged 27, 4122 Nebraska avenue, was most seriously hurt. His spine was fractured. Harry Coombs, aged 29, 8040 Church road, is in serious condition with a fractured hip and fractured rib. George Fiender, aged 33, 4234 Prairie avenue, was least hurt, his right hip being dislocated and his left wrist sprained.

The men were working on a tower, rearranging the wires of a temporary trolley system. A span wire which held the trolley wire taut broke and the trolley wire swept across the top of the tower like a flash. The three men were thrown to the ties of the track below, a distance of 25 feet.

Knapp, is at Mullanphy Hospital, the others being taken to their homes.

MAYOR JUDGE AND WITNESS

Refuses Dr. Simon's Request to Have Trial by Council.

The trial of Health Commissioner Simon by Mayor Wells on charges preferred several days ago by the Mayor's private secretary will be held Friday, with the Mayor presiding. Not only will he preside, but he will also be a witness for the defense. It is presumed, furthermore, that he will be a witness for the prosecution, since the charges against the official came from his office.

Dr. Simon Monday presented an application for a change of venue from the Mayor to the City Council, but his request was refused by the executive. Monday evening a summons was served on Mayor Wells requiring him to appear as a witness in behalf of the defendant in the case, Dr. Simon.

RESTORATION OF STAMP TAXES TO RAISE REVENUES

Republican Leaders Suggest Plan to Avoid Cutting Down Expenditures or Changing the Tariff Schedules.

ACTION COMPELLED BY BIG TREASURY DEFICIT

Dick of Ohio Favors Stamps on Checks, Stocks, Bonds, Legal Papers and Patent Medicines and Like Lines.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—Restoration of the stamp taxes in force during the Spanish-American War is being suggested by many Republican statesmen as the best plan for making treasury receipts equal expenditures. The deficit for the year just ended was $24,000,000, and a conservative estimate would make the shortage $40,000,000 for the fiscal year just beginning.

The war revenue taxes imposed by Congress in 1898 yielded over $100,000,000 each fiscal year for three years, and in the fourth year, after amendment, produced nearly $62,000,000.

The stamp tax was largely on documents of various kinds, but there was also a tax on medicinal proprietary articles and preparations, on seats in parlor or palace cars and berths in sleeping cars, on legacies and distributive shares of personal property, etc., including playing cards. During the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1899, the first year of the operation of the war revenue act, the stamp taxes under Schedule A produced $38,618,081 and Schedule B, $5,219,737, while legacies brought in over $1,000,000. The three schedules put together yielded about $45,000,000 of revenue, which would be fully sufficient to meet prospective deficits, provided expenditures are not materially increased in the next five or six years above what they will be in the present fiscal year.

The taxes ranged from 1 cent up to $10, and took in stocks, bonds, bank checks, bills of exchange, drafts, bills of lading, certificates of profits, charters, contracts, agreements, conveyances of all kinds, dispatches, entry of goods in warehouses, insurance of all kinds, leases, mortgages, steamship licenses, powers of attorney, protests, telephone messages, warehouse receipts, bottles, boxes, packages of proprietary medicine, champagne and legacies.

Senator Dick, who favors a restoration of the stamp taxes, said today: "I have come to the conclusion that about the best thing will be to impose the Spanish war revenue taxes on numerous articles, especially the stamp taxes, where the taxation is barely felt by masses of the people.

"Injustice is less likely to be done in that way than by imposing larger sums upon various lines of business and making a few lines carry the whole thing. I have not gone into the subject in detail, but my idea would be to affix a stamp tax on checks, stocks, bonds, legal papers, patent medicines and all such things as that."

Senator Warren of Wyoming and many other strong men of Congress prefer the method proposed by Senator Dick to any other, although there are others who suggest an additional customs duty on tea and coffee, believing this would be an easy and less troublesome method than the other, and resting so lightly upon the great mass of coffee and tea drinkers as not to be felt.

Cabanne Boulevard Suit.

All property owners on Cabanne avenue, between Union and Hamilton avenues, were made defendants in a friendly suit filed in Circuit Court Monday by City Counselor Bates to determine the claims property holders will make under the ordinance making the avenue a boulevard. If no demurrer is filed, commissioners will be appointed to hear the claims and the court will pass upon their report if it is unchallenged for ten days.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains the linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it, or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, and a book that tells all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing be sure to mention that you read this generous offer in the St. Louis Daily Post-Dispatch. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root—Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root—and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

ELOPEMENT ENDS LONG ENGAGEMENT.

MRS F. C. STEWART

F. C. Stewart of 4223 McPherson avenue and Miss Julia Cecile Grace of 3630 Cass avenue ended a long engagement Sunday by going to Carrollton, Mo., and getting married. Then they telegraphed the news back home, and continued on their way to Bosworth, Mo., for their honeymoon.

Friends and relatives of the young people suspected their intentions, but had no direct evidence. Stewart got a leave of absence for a vacation beginning Saturday night, and when he went away Sunday morning Miss Grace was on the train with him. They were married at 7 p. m. Stewart is a salesman for a well-known hat firm.

GIVES UP PISTOL BUT KEEPS POISON

When Confronted, J. R. Penn of Fulton Confesses Frauds and Then Suicides.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FULTON, Mo., July 4.—When confronted in the Masonic Hall today by his partner, J. E. Sallee and E. A. Boulware, James R. Penn, a real estate and insurance agent of this city, confessed frauds whereby he had secured about $18,000, and after the men had left him committed suicide.

He told Mr. Sallee that the thefts and frauds had extended over a period of about 15 years. Temptation to commit fraud was due to his having expensive tastes and the high living expenses of his family, he said.

His method was to illegally manipulate deeds, mortgages and notes.

Discovery of his dealings came to light recently through an investigation of a complaint of two farmers with whom the firm had dealings through Penn that their papers were not just right. The investigation was made by Sallee, and when he had secured all the facts he sent for E. A. Boulware and George Magorian, and when they came sent for Penn. They went to the Masonic Hall and here Penn was confronted by the facts. He admitted them and said that there were more. In all he said that his fraudulent practice had secured for him about $18,000.

Then men then left Penn, after taking his revolver, fearing that he might kill himself, and obtaining a promise that he would go home.

He did not go, and later his body was found in the Masonic Hall, where the other men had left him.

Penn was 42 years old and leaves a widow and two brothers. His life was insured for $22,000. One of his brothers lives in St. Louis.

WOMAN STABBED PREACHER

Accused Negro of Taking Watch, Used Knife on Him.

Members of the Pleasant Green Baptist Church, 1403 Morgan street, enjoying a watermelon feast and fish fry at the church Monday night, stood by, helpless, while the pastor, Rev. Ernest Harris, colored, was probably fatally stabbed by Mrs. Alice Wright, colored. The preacher was stabbed seven times with a penknife, the resistance offered by himself with a razor being ineffectual.

The woman was torn away from the minister finally by Special Officer Evans, colored, who witnessed the duel. He arrested her and placed her in the Carr Street Station. The preacher was taken, unconscious, in an ambulance to the City Hospital.

The Rev. Mr. Harris, who is 27 years of age, boards at the home of Mrs. Wright, 2126 Carr street. When he arrived at the church Monday night she was waiting for him and declared that he had taken a watch from her room. He turned his back on her and was stabbed three times in the back before he could whirl around. The injury received by the woman was a gash in her left thumb, where she caught and held the preacher's razor.

MISSING MAN'S WIFE ILL

Mrs. George A. Bookman Gives Way Under Strain.

Friends fear that if definite news be not obtained as to the whereabouts of George A. Bookman within a short while his wife's health will be seriously affected.

Monday night Mrs. Bookman gave way beneath the strain which she has endured since last Friday morning, when it was learned that her husband was missing from his home at 5576 Vernon avenue. Her son, Forrest Bookman, summoned Dr. Guhman, who worked with Mrs. Bookman for more than an hour before she was restored.

Bookman was treasurer for the local Carpenters' Union, and has been seen by none of his relatives or friends since he attended the meeting of the union Thursday night. He left the lodge-room early and the dues for that night were collected by Howard Miller, who had been elected treasurer to succeed Bookman.

"GOING TO ELOPE," ONLY A JOKE

Friend Took St. Louis Girl's Declaration Seriously and Caused Embarrassment.

Miss Gertrude Trick, heroine of an interesting elopement romance sent out from Denver, Colo., Saturday night, arrived in St. Louis Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. Frank R. Trick of 1918 Victor street.

And with her she brought an emphatic denial of the story that she eloped with and was planning to marry Pueblo J. Vallenzuela Jr., son of a rich Mexican, who met her and was attentive to her during the World's Fair.

Miss Trick explains that Vallenzuela was on the train with herself and her chaperon on the trip to Denver. One morning the young people went into the dining car in advance of the chaperon. A Denver police official who knew Miss Trick asked if they were married; she replied with a laugh that they were eloping and would be married in Denver. At Denver the party stopped at the Brown Palace Hotel.

The Denver police official took Miss Trick's declaration seriously and at once telegraphed to Mrs. Trick that her daughter was eloping with a Mexican. Mrs. Trick left St. Louis at once. When she reached Denver, she says, she found no preparation for a wedding, and Miss Trick says none was intended.

GIRL SLAYER OF SUITOR IS FREED

Antoinette Seidensticker, Who Killed Sweetheart, Weeps When Acquitted.

WHEATON, Minn., July 4.—Antoinette Seidensticker, the 14-year-old girl who has been on trial here for the murder of Herman Shipp, has been acquitted. As the clerk pronounced the words, "Not guilty," the girl, who has held up bravely throughout the trial, threw her arms about her attorney's neck and burst into tears.

The crime for which the girl was on trial was committed last May. She and Shipp had been sweethearts, but she discovered that he was paying attention to other girls and shot and killed him. At the same time she made a desperate effort to commit suicide, first by shooting, and, when that failed, by throwing herself in front of a moving train.

John M. Glover Left $100.

John M. Glover will receive a legacy of $100 from the estate of his mother, Mildred A. Glover, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Clark Way, 4384 McPherson avenue, June 27. The residue of the estate is left to the other children, Fanny G. Way, Mildred Glover Kern, Joseph and Griff Glover.

John M. Glover occupied a seat in Congress for years from the downtown St. Louis district. He is now a resident of Colorado. The deceased was the widow of Samuel T. Glover, who was a well-known attorney in his day.

BALKS AT KANGAROO TRIAL; IN HOSPITAL

Prisoners at Clayton Want to Celebrate, but Mock Defendant Objects.

Because he objected to being the defendant in a mock Fourth of July eve trial before a kangaroo court in the County Jail at Clayton Monday night August Barclay is now at the St. Louis City Hospital with a broken leg.

Barclay was a prisoner in the County Jail, having been arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace at Delmar Garden some time ago. Being without other means of celebrating the Fourth of July, the prisoners at Clayton resolved to hold a kangaroo court, and Fred Williams was chosen as judge and a colored prisoner known as "Bill" was named as Constable.

It was determined to make Barclay the defendant, but when the judge and constable went to his cell to bring him out for trial he refused to enter into the spirit of the sport.

The mock judge and the mock constable tried to drag him out whether he would or not, and some rough struggling ensued, in the course of which Barclay was thrown violently against the sides of his cell and then fell to the floor groaning with pain. Examination revealed the fact that his right leg had been broken just above the ankle.

BROTHER'S MURDER LAID TO MISSOURIAN

John Mullock Arrested Near Grant City Charged With the Crime.

GRANT CITY, Mo., July 4.—John Mullock, a farmer six miles southwest from here, is under arrest charged with murdering his brother, "Doc," yesterday afternoon.

The story told by the victim's 10-year-old stepson, who was with "Doc" Mullock when he was killed, is that John Mullock fired on his brother with a shotgun, from ambush, sending a charge of buckshot through the latter's heart and then, stepping into the road, exclaimed: "There, you'll never steal any more of my cows."

The prisoner denies his guilt. The Mullocks are said to have been in a feud for many years. John Mullock is about 45 years old. "Doc" was 50.

Tuscan Lodge to Build Home.

Tuscan Lodge No. 306, one of the oldest and richest Masonic organizations in Missouri, will erect a big temple at the northwest corner of King's highway and Westminster within the next year. The lodge has had its headquarters at Leffingwell and Washington avenues for many years. The new lot is 200 by 200 feet and was transferred to the Tuscan Hall Association yesterday by Isaac A. Hedges, the consideration being $26,000. Mr. Hedges held the lot in trust for the lodge. An offer of $40,000 was refused for it some time ago.

FLOATING BETTING ROOM GAME STOPS

Chicago Police Arrest Wireless Operatives Sending Results to Gambling Steamer.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, July 4.—The 400 gamblers cruising off Indiana harbor on the City of Traverse were puzzled and disappointed about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the wireless "went down" and there was no further communication with five racetracks. The last wireless message received was the mystic number, "23," and the words, "We are pinched."

Proper had just been returned winner of the handicap at Sheepshead Bay, and Hamburg Belle betters swore that somebody ought to be "pinched."

"It's all off," yelled the man operating the system as he climbed down from the mast of the Traverse. "Can't raise them on shore," he reported.

The boat was sent to another position and another attempt was made to communicate with the shore end. It was a failure, and within an hour the steamer and the "gang" were slowly making for the Wells street anchorage.

At the Harrison Police Station Manager Ocker of the De Forest Wireless company and two operators were giving bonds for violating the "ticker ordinance." Five detectives, under instructions of Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler, had raided the offices of the De Forest company in the Railway Building, confiscated and carried off all the instruments, arrested the manager and two operators who were flashing racing results to the steamer. A big legal battle is on now, as the wireless company assert it is not liable under ordinances which control land lines. The boat is not going out today.

Dark days on the Black Sea.

A Kansas vessel going to sea with a punchbowl would be a subject for Punch.

Surely, all mankind will say "Here's richness" if the Federal courts in Illinois shall fill a "pen" with millionaires.

The President is a good man, who, however, sometimes takes the Tim Campbell view of matters between friends.

Mr. Doyle, the Cincinnati landlord who will not rent his flats to any family of less than five children, is a greater man than Mr. Dooley.

A JUDICIAL APPROVAL OF FISTS.

Judge Bishop, in the Juvenile Court, rebuked the man who summoned the police to stop a fist fight between two boys and rebuked the policeman who arrested the boys. The Judge said he had many a bump as well as black eyes when he was a boy, and was none the worse for it, and added: "It is commendable for boys to settle their difficulties with their fists, as long as they resort to no more violent measures."

This is an extraordinary judicial opinion.

We do not criticise Judge Bishop's deprecation of too serious consideration of a fist fight between boys, but we question the soundness of his opinion that it is commendable to settle boyish differences that way, either from the standpoint of law, public policy or morality.

Is there a peg in the law upon which a judge can hang a commendation of fist fighting? Does not the law forbid all violent settlement of difficulties or disturbance of the peace by fighting? Is not the use of the fist for the settlement of difficulties a misdemeanor? Is there not a unity of public opinion against violence and in favor of peace and reason? Does a fist fight settle anything except that one boy is stronger or more skillful than another?

The boy is father to the man. If the boy is taught from the bench that fist fighting is commendable, the man will use his fists to settle his differences, and some judge will have to teach the man a different lesson from that taught the boy by Judge Bishop.

Has Judge Bishop been Rooseveltized? Have the courts deserted the law for the big stick?

There is no getting around the fact that the City Hospital record shows a decrease of one-half the number of surgical cases and a great decrease in the number of alcoholic patients since the last year, as a result of the Sunday-closing law. A lid which produces such results may be hard to pry off.

KISSES VS. ELOQUENCE.

When pretty Mabel Huston, daughter of a Kansas farmer, offered a first prize of three kisses and a hug and second and third prize of the same nature to her father's harvest hands as a reward for saving his $3000 wheat crop, she demonstrated that women can be useful on the farm in other ways than by baking stacks of pies, frying pyramids of chicken and making oceans of cream gravy for the delectation of hungry farmhands.

The 137 young women who have taken up farms around Bonesteel, S. D., on what was the Rosebud Reservation, and who are now advertising for husbands, might do well to study the tactics of this Kansas girl. A few tempting offers of this kind might not only result in saving their crops, but in bringing to their feet an army of eligible men—a feat which their eloquent press agent has yet failed to accomplish.

Honeyed words may capture husbands, but honeyed kisses are better bait.

It has been said that every St. Louis street railway runs to a beer garden. Now, however, a good number of cars are running to a public museum of fine arts.

LAWSON IN A NUTSHELL.

The article on Thomas W. Lawson's message to the West, in the Sunday Post-Dispatch, is timely, because of the coming visit of this remarkable man to Missouri and other Western States, during which he proposes to continue his work of exposing the trickery of the grasping financiers.

This illustrated page article sums up Lawson and what he stands for in the most terse and accurate manner, giving the reader a complete and convincing view of a man who has become a power in his generation.

In his personal preface to this article, telling what he proposes to accomplish on his Western tour, Mr. Lawson challenges "the generous people of the West" to put him to the test, in order that the world may know whether or not his message is genuine and his work sound. It is to be hoped that they will do so as thoroughly as he appears to desire. There is still too much of an enigma about Lawson and the object of his tremendous crusade. He is one of the members of the "System" which he so unsparingly denounces. Is he a truly repentant member? Or are his blows directed at it because he desires revenge for its depredations on what he hoped to gain from its machinations? He says he has a remedy which, when put in operation, will deprive the big robbers of the "System" of their ill-gotten gains "by the simple application of natural laws," legally and without violence. The people would like to know what that remedy is, and whether it is merely temporary and speculative or permanent and scientific.

Two thousand prisoners and a vast quantity of ammunition captured is the latest news from the seat of war in Philadelphia.

FOURTH OF JULY.

We celebrate the Fourth of July because on that day in 1776 a nation was born, dedicated to the proposition that "government of the people, by the people, for the people, should not perish from the earth."

It seems to be implied that such a government cannot limit its blessings to some of the people, but must extend them to all people within its jurisdiction. That is to say, freedom and imperialism are incompatible and can be joined only by an unholy union. A free republic based upon the principle of self-government cannot without suicidal contradiction hold subject peoples who are denied any of the privileges of free citizens, possessing all civil and political rights.

But we have tried to do just this and only time will tell whether we can achieve the impossible.

Already, however, there are signs that even the most robust imperialists are discouraged by the outlook and are hoping for some accident or happy chance which shall enable them to escape the dilemma in which they have placed themselves. Other people, more old-fashioned, are convinced that we need not wait for happy chances, but by a combination of honest purpose and hard thinking the country can be brought back to its ancient moorings.

This is the topic which is especially kept out of view on the Fourth of July. Amid the noise of thoughtless patriotism the voice of reason is not heard. On the Fourth we glorify ourselves in uproar. The day after we shall think quietly and soberly. And perhaps in the course of years we shall decide once for all between the principles of the Declaration of Independence and the clamorous claims of manufactured destiny and duty.

When we shall have an $800,000,000 navy will the Michigan farmer get more than 8 and 10 cents a bushel for his potatoes?

HERCULES IN SKIRTS.

The Augean stables, which Hercules cleaned in a single day by turning the waters of a river into them, had contained 3000 oxen and had not been cleaned for 30 years. That was a big job, but nothing in comparison with the cleaning which the women of El Paso gave that city recently, as described in the Sunday Post-Dispatch.

Under the leadership of Mrs. B. F. Hammett, formerly of St. Louis; the women of El Paso not only gave the city a thorough cleaning, but beautified it—something which old Hercules never dreamed of doing to the King's stables. They made the neglected parks into verdant bowers and planted trees and flowers along the streets. El Paso being a health resort, where consumptives gather, not the least important work done by the women was the enforcement of the law against spitting.

The Post-Dispatch correspondent who describes this crusade says truly that the women are brave—"a wave of their tiny hands is equivalent to a rap over the head with a policeman's billy." The simile is not a pretty one. Rather let us say that the modern woman's smile, as she insists on a clean city, is mightier than the club of Hercules.

St. Louis will do well to follow El Paso's example. There is much need of the female Hercules with her broom and hose at this time.

The Russian Kruger met his Pretoria before a shot had been fired.

Perhaps the Russian army had no "canteen" to keep it sober.

Yankee Doodle and Yellow Jack will have it out in Panama.

MOLLIE PITCHER.

June 28, 1778—July 4, 1905.

(The following verses were suggested by an editorial in the Post-Dispatch. John Hays was Mollie Pitcher's husband.)

We hail you while the fire-wheels whirl,
Mollie Pitcher!
Call loud your name when red lights swirl,
And where blue smoke-wreaths thickest curl,
Mollie Pitcher!
While deep-mouthed cannon salvos hurl,
And Stars and Stripes in pride unfurl,
We shout your praises, grand old girl—
Mollie Pitcher!

You helped us rout the "Hessian Dutch,"
Mollie Pitcher!
You laid some Redcoats in Death's clutch,
Sent others homeward on a crutch,
Mollie Pitcher!
And, though they sneer you were "not much,"
God grant to us your "fighting touch,"
And give us many thousand "such,"
Mollie Pitcher!

Old gossips say you drank strong grog,
Mollie Pitcher!
That, now and then, you "slipped a cog,"
And "lost your bearings in a fog,"
Mollie Pitcher!
Led Hays "the life of any dog,"
While all the town, with eyes agog,
Opined he you should soundly flog,
Mollie Pitcher!

Some charge you oft used language bad,
Mollie Pitcher!
That when things crossed or "made you mad"
Your Billingsgate was "something sad,"
Mollie Pitcher!
But, strange to say, "His Country's Dad,"
When passing near you, always had
The time to call and "make you glad,"
Mollie Pitcher!

So we, too, join good Washington,
Mollie Pitcher!
And honor you for valor done
Beneath that blazing June day sun,
Mollie Pitcher!
When, brave Hays fallen, leaving none
To take his post, you manned his gun
And fought till Monmouth field was won,
Mollie Pitcher!

Swearing Off.

There's really nothing quite so easy—
Don't you think?—
As swearing off.
If you no more in manner breezy
Choose to drink,
Why, swearing off
Is your privilege, you know.
If you only will it so,
You'll find pleasure as you go
In swearing off.

Reflections of Alas P. Yorick.

LITTLE STORIES

By ROSE MARION.

ONE signing himself "Plain Smith" wants to know how the spelling average of the St. Louis public schools was found.

Same way as the baseball average, Mr. Smith. That I understand is found by dividing the number of games won by the number of games played.

In the spelling the number of words spelled correctly was divided by the number of words in the test.

Mr. Smith contends that conditions are serious if the pupils of the St. Louis schools on an average misspell 10 words out of 100. Such is the case.

CASEY has been outdone by Rev. Fr. Martin S. Brennan, pastor of St. Lawrence O'Toole's Parish. The mighty Casey struck out once but Father Brennan struck out twice.

Father Brennan has played ball since his boyhood days and is one of the men who helped to establish baseball as the national game. He pitched for the old "Empires," his backstop was Jere Fruin.

But he went to the parish picnic at Ramona Park Tuesday and his baseball reputation is gone. It was there that he struck out twice.

The sadness in Mudville was a gladsome thing compared to that in St. Lawrence O'Toole's parish. Father Brennan explains that hits depend upon bats and that his bat was way too short, but there are few who hearken.

They are beginning to understand how it is that the Browns lose so frequently. What else could be expected of those boys when a patriarch of the game can strike out twice?

OFFICERS of the public museum made use of various plans to make their opening exercises interesting. James A. Reardon telephoned to Chief Kiely for a detail of police. "Please send us 40 of your best men, and as we have exhibits from as many different countries it would be a good idea to send a representative of each country as far as possible."

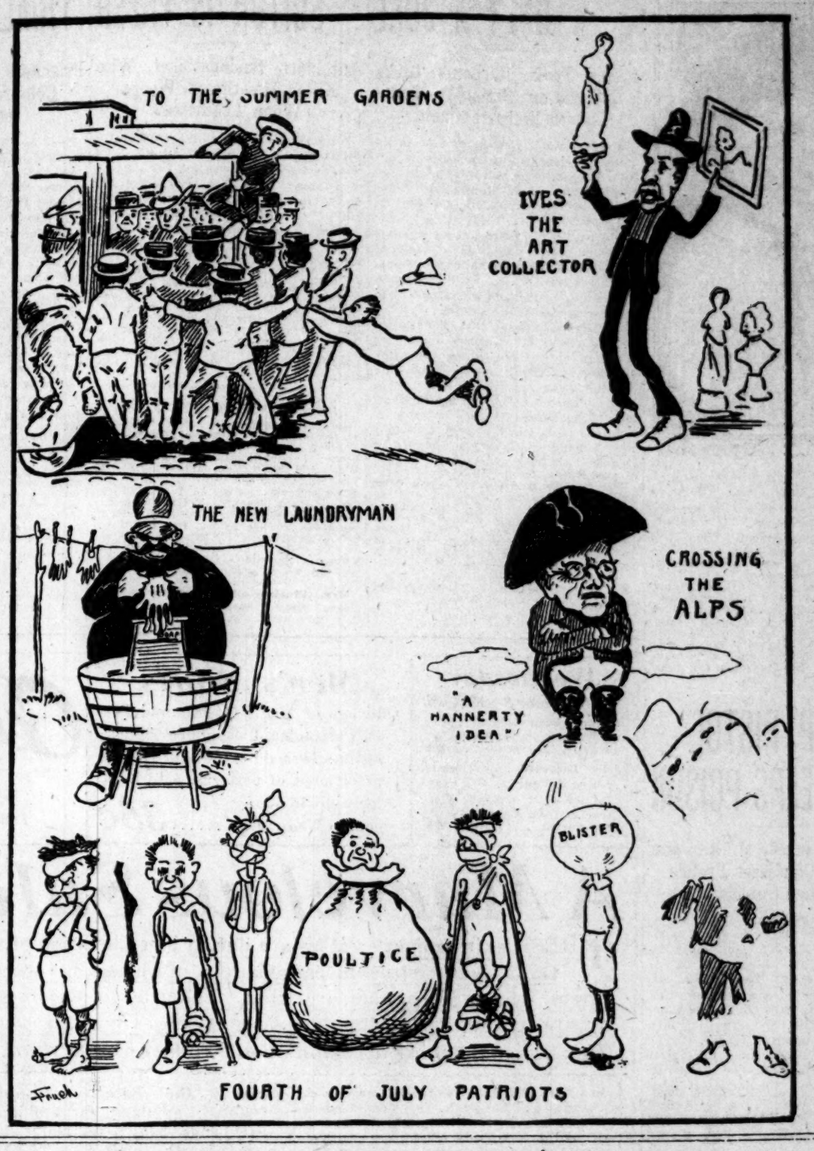

"I know you can't supply us with Orientals for our fine Chinese, Japanese and Siamese exhibits, but you might carry out the scheme with the European countries."

"Name your countries," said Chief Kiely.

"Germany, France, England, Austria, Italy and Ireland," replied Mr. Reardon.

"Cant' carry out your suggestion. Nobody for England, France or Austria. Might give you a man for the German exhibit, but I'll take care of Ireland all right," concluded the Chief.

NEW YORK EDITORIAL OPINION

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Concerning St. Louis County and its nonobservance of the Sunday-closing law, and Gov. Folk's threat to send in troops to enforce the law, the World says: "Those who have earnestly commended Gov. Folk for his fight on lines of rational reform must fear that he is now proceeding to such irrational extremes as will not only affect his own prestige for the worst, but will react hurtfully upon the cause of better government.

"It is not a revolt which goes on in St. Louis. It is not an uprising of criminals. Disreputables have there, as elsewhere, taken advantage of the open Sunday. But the masses of people objecting to the extreme of the law are moved by regard for customs long established and harmless. Great numbers of these offended citizens stood behind Mr. Folk while he carried on the good work of sending boodlers to Jail. By his present attitude he invites them to resentment in place of co-operation.

The Times does not stand in awe of "society," and makes tart comment on "one well-meaning British commentator," who said of Secretary Hay: "By his death, society, politics and literature are sensibly poorer." The Times says: "Americans will scarcely agree with the phrasing as well as with the sentiment itself. There was no society in the world worthy of esteem which he would not have adorned, but his loss to society is certainly not the first thought uppermost in American esteem. One reason is that we have no political 'society,' although we have political societies in superabundance. It may almost be said that we have no national American society.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A Solution of the Delmar Track Trouble.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

President A. C. Stewart of the Board of Police Commissioners of St. Louis declines to send the police of this city to St. Louis County, upon the ground that he has no authority to do so, and this, in view of the fact that the police are controlled by the State authorities indicates that the Governor has no right to send the militia to any county in the State unless the authorities of said county are unable to suppress lawlessness and call upon the Mayor or Governor for police or military assistance. An easy way to get rid of the lawlessness on the western limits of St. Louis would be to extend the corporation limits of the city and take in Delmar Racetrack and Delmar Garden. These being included in the city limits, would come within the jurisdiction of the police of this city and the courts of St. Louis. This would put a stop to pool selling and violation of the Sunday law. G. W. HARRIS.

Public School Spelling.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I note the gladness manifested by Superintendent Soldan, and shared in by the Post-Dispatch, over the recent test demonstration that the pupils of our public schools average 90 per cent perfect in spelling. I can't help feeling that there is a grave mistake, and that a serious wrong is done to the children and the teachers by such an announcement. The test was made, as I infer from published articles, by dictation of sentences. My understanding of 90 per cent perfect is that of the words thus dictated—ordinary and extraordinary—the average pupil spelled 90 of each 100 correctly. This would mean that, of the 200 words constituting a social or business letter, our average school-going child would misspell 20. As an average is necessary higher than a minimum, many of these little folks would exceed 20 such errors in a short typewritten page. If so, why jubilate?

The man ignored the elderly woman and continued to motion to the younger one; and she continued to refuse the seat. At last he approached the younger woman.

"I offered you the seat," he said.

"But the woman beside me was older and tired, and I gave it to her," she replied.

"But I didn't want her to have it," said the man. "I know her and she knows me, and when she came into the car she passed me without a nod. I wouldn't give her a seat if she stood until doomsday."

THE SUBURBAN TRAIN

Passengers Express Opinion on the Subject of Lids.

"I SEE Gov. Hoch says there will be no punch bowl on the new battleship Kansas," said the Insurance Man, looking up from his morning paper.

"What does he propose to give it—a milk cow?" asked the Boss Printer.

"Wonder what he will say when he learns that the ship has a port side?" asked the Steamboat Man.

The Railroad Man shuffled the milk tickets and the brakeman banged up the aisle with the Base Burners. The commuters began to smoke up, and the Boss Printer, who had been thoughtful, said:

"Some people call this Folk-Hoch era out here a reign of law, but I call it something else—I call it a drouth of law. If it goes on much longer Missouri and Kansas will make the land of Ahab look like a fish pond by comparison, and it will take an Elijah with kerosene on his bonfire to break the drouth."

"Speaking of battleships," said the Railroad Man, "that's what we're coming to in the Mississippi River. Did you see where the City of Providence was stoned by a lot of raggers who were put off because they were not permitted to dance the raggers' dance? If the excursion companies are going to enforce that law they will have to give their excursions upon armored cruisers."

"What's the objection to the ragger dance on the boats?" asked the Insurance Man.

"The vibration shakes the dice off the chuck-a-luck boards," said the Railroad Man.

"Did you ever go out on one of those big boats on Sunday?" asked the Boss Printer. "I did. I didn't go for fun, but to conduct an experiment. I took a dummy figure aboard and stuck it up against a pillar on the lower deck. Just to show what can happen an inoffensive man on one of those boats when the crowd gets to enjoying itself, I had a bell in the dummy's head, and it was rung 47 times by someone soaking the poor fellow on the jaw. One of its glass eyes was broken, it was stabbed in the back eight times and a gambler who set up a shell game in front of it and got mad because it wouldn't play, threw it down on the floor and choked and bit it. I set it up again and in less than ten minutes a woman threw vitrol in its face, exclaiming: 'You will dance with another woman will you!' I was upon the point of taking it down when eight men rushed up. One of them pointed at the dummy and said, excitedly: 'This's de feller!' whereupon they all fell upon him and tore him up."

"St. Louis!" cried the brakeman, and everybody stopped short in his thought, trying to recall if they had any bundles.

THE ADVENTURES OF SHERLOCK HOLMES

THE GREEK INTERPRETER.

By SIR A. CONAN DOYLE.

COMPLETE IN THREE CHAPTERS.

CHAPTER II.

"HE began by drawing a most formidable-looking bludgeon loaded with lead from his pocket, and switching it backward and forward several times, as if to test its weight and strength. Then he placed it without a word upon the seat beside him. Having done this, he drew up the windows on each side, and I found to my astonishment that they were covered with paper so as to prevent my seeing through them.

"I am sorry to cut off your view, Mr. Melas," said he. "The fact is that I have no intention that you should see what the place is to which we are driving. It might possibly be inconvenient to me if you could find your way there again."

As you can imagine, I was utterly taken aback by such an address. My companion was a powerful, broad-shouldered young fellow, and apart from that weapon, I should not have had the slightest chance in a struggle with him.

"This is very extraordinary conduct, Mr. Latimer,' I stammered. 'You must be aware that what you are doing is quite illegal.'

"It is somewhat of a liberty, no doubt,' said he, 'but we'll make it up to you. I must warn you, however, Mr. Melas, that if at any time tonight you attempt to raise an alarm or do anything which is against my interests you will find it a very serious thing. I beg you to remember that no one knows where you are and that whether you are in this carriage or in my house, you are equally in my power.'

"His words were quiet, but he had a rasping way of saying them which was very menacing. I sat in silence wondering what on earth could be his reason for kidnaping me in this extraordinary fashion. Whatever it might be, it was perfectly clear that there was no possible use in my resisting, and that I could only wait to see what might befall.

"For nearly two hours we drove without my having the least clew as to where we were going. Sometimes the rattle of the stones told of a paved causeway, and at others our smooth, silent course suggested asphalt; but save by this variation in sound, there was nothing at all which could in the remotest way help me to form a guess as to where we were. The paper over each window was impenetrable to light, and a blue curtain was drawn across the glasswork in front. It was 7:15 when we left Pall Mall, and my watch showed me that it was 8:50 when we at last came to a standstill. My companion let down the window and I caught a glimpse of a low, arched doorway with a lamp burning above it. As I was hurried from the carriage it swung open and I found myself inside the house, with a vague impression of a lawn and trees on each side of me as I entered. Whether these were private grounds, however, or bonafide country was more than I could possibly venture to say.

"There was a colored gas-lamp inside which was turned so low that I could see little save that the hall was of some size and hung with pictures. In the dim light I could make out that the person who had opened the door was a small, mean-looking, middle-aged man with rounded shoulders. As he turned toward us the glint of the light showed me that he was wearing glasses.

"'Is that Mr. Melas, Harold?' said he.

"'Yes.'

"'Well done, well done! No ill-will, Mr. Melas, I hope, but we could not get on without you. If you deal fair with us you'll not regret it, but if you try any tricks, God help you!' He spoke in a nervous, jerky fashion, and with little giggling laughs in between, but somehow he impressed me with fear more than the other.

"'What do you want with me?' I asked.

"'Only to ask a few questions of a Greek gentleman who is visiting us, and to let us have the answers. But say no more than you are told to say, or—' here came the nervous giggle again—'you had better never have been born.'

"As he spoke he opened a door and showed the way into a room which appeared to be very richly furnished, but again the only light was afforded by a single lamp half turned down. The chamber was certainly large, and the way in which my feet sank into the carpet as I stepped across it told me of its richness. I caught a glimpse of velvet chairs, a high white marble mantelpiece, and what seemed to be a suit of Japanese armor at one side of it. There was a chair just under the lamp, and the elderly man motioned that I should sit in it. The younger had left us, but he suddenly returned through another door, leading with him a gentleman clad in some sort of a loose dressing-gown who moved slowly toward us. As he came into the circle of dim light which enabled me to see him more clearly I was thrilled with horror at his appearance. He was deadly pale and terribly emaciated, with the protruding, brilliant eyes of a man whose spirit was greater than his strength. But what shocked me more than any signs of physical weakness was that his face was grotesquely criss-crossed with sticking-paster, and that one large pad of it was fastened over his mouth.

"'Have you the slate, Harold?' cried the older man, as this strange being fell rather than sat down into a chair. 'Are his hands loose? Now, then, give him the pencil. You are to ask questions, Mr. Melas, and he will write the answers. Ask him first of all whether he is prepared to sign the papers?'

"The man's eyes flashed fire.

"'Never!' he wrote in Greek upon the slate.

"'On no conditions?' I asked, at the bidding of our tyrant.

"'Only if I see her married in my presence by a Greek priest whom I know.'

"The man giggled in his venomous way.

"'You know what awaits you, then?'

"'I care nothing for myself.'

"These are samples of the questions and answers which made up our strange half-spoken, half-written conversation. Again and again I had to ask him whether he would give in and sign the documents. Again and again I had the same indignant reply. But soon a happy thought came to me. I took to adding on little sentences of my own to each question, innocent ones at first, to test whether other of our companions knew anything of the matter, and then, as I found that they showed no sign, I played a more dangerous game. Our conversation ran something like this:

"'You can do no good by this obstinacy. Who are you?'

"'I care not. I am a stranger in London.'

"'Your fate will be on your own head. How long have you been here?'

"'Let it be so. Three weeks.'

"'The property can never be yours. What ails you?'

"'It shall not go to villains. They are starving me.'

"'You shall go free if you sign. What house is this?'

"'I will never sign. I do not know.'

"'You are not doing her any service. What is your name?'

"'Let me hear her say so. Kratides.'

"'You shall see her if you sign. Where are you from?'

"'Then I shall never see her. Athens.'

"Andother five minutes Mr. Holmes and I should have wormed out the whole story under their very noses. My very next question might have cleared the matter up, but at that instant the door opened and a woman stepped into the room. I could not see her clearly enough to know more than that she was tall and graceful, with black hair, and clad in some sort of loose white gown.

"'Harold,' said she, speaking English with a broken accent, 'I could not stay away any longer. It is so lonely up there with only—O, my God, it is Paul!'

"These last works were in Greek, and at the same instant the man, with a convulsive effort, tore the plaster from his lips, and screaming out, 'Sophy! Sophy!' rushed into the woman's arms. Their embrace was but for an instant, however, for the younger man seized the woman and pushed her out of the room, while the elder easily overpowered his emaciated victim and dragged him away through the door. For a moment I was left alone in the room, and I sprang to my feet with some vague idea that I might in some way get a clew to what this house was in which I found myself. Fortunately, however, I took no steps, for looking up I saw that the older man was standing in the doorway, with his eyes fixed upon me.

"'That will do, Mr. Melas,' said he. 'You perceive that we have taken you into our confidence over some very private business. We should not have troubled you, only that our friend who speaks Greek and who began these negotiations has been forced to return to the East. It was quite necessary to find some one to take his place, and we were fortunate in hearing of your powers.'

"I bowed.

"'There are five sovereigns here,' said he, walking up to me, 'which will, I hope, be a sufficient fee. But remember,' he added, tapping me lightly on the chest, and giggling, 'if you speak to a human soul about this—one human soul, mind—well, may God have mercy upon your soul!'

"I cannot tell you the loathing and horror with which this insignificant-looking man inspired me. I could see him better now as the lamplight shone upon him. His features were peaky sallow, and his little, pointed beard was thready and ill-nourished. He pushed his face forward as he spoke, and his lips and eyelids were continually twitching like a man with St. Vitus' dance. I could not help thinking that his strange, catchy little laugh was also a symptom of some nervous malady. The terror of his face lay in his eyes, however, steel gray and glistening coldly with a malignant, inexorable cruelty in their depths.

"'We shall know if you speak of this,' said he. 'We have our own means of information. Now you will find the carriage waiting, and my friend will see you on your way.'

"I was hurried through the hall and into the vehicle, again obtaining that momentary glimpse of trees and a garden. Mr. Latimer followed closely at my heels and took his place opposite to me without a word. In silence we again drove for an interminable distance, with the windows raised, until, at last, just after midnight, the carriage pulled up.

"'You will get down here, Mr. Melas,' said my companion. 'I am sorry to leave you so far from your house, but there is no alternative. Any attempt upon your part to follow the carriage can only end in injury to yourself.'

"He opened the door as he spoke, and I had hardly time to spring out when the coachman lashed the horse and the carriage rattled away. I looked around me in astonishment. I was on some sort of a heathy common, mottled over with dark clumps of furze bushes. Far away stretched a line of houses, with a light here and there in the upper windows. On the other side I saw the red signal lamps of a railway.

"The carriage which had brought me was already out of sight. I stood gazing and wondering where on earth I might be, when I saw some one coming toward me in the darkness. As he came up to me I made out that he was a railway porter.

"'Can you tell me what place this is?' I asked.

"'Wadsworth Common,' said he.

"'Can I get a train into town?'

"'If you walk a mile or so to Clapham Junction,' said he, 'you'll just be in time for the last to Victoria.'

"So that was the end of my adventure, Mr. Holmes. I do not know where I was, nor whom I spoke with, nor anything save what I have told you. But I know that there is foul play going on, and I want to help that unhappy man if I can. I told the whole story to Mr. Mycroft Holmes next morning, and subsequently to the police."

We all sat in silence for little time after listening to this extraordinary narrative. Then Sherlock looked across at his brother.

"Any steps?" he asked.

Mycroft picked up the Daily News, which was lying on the sidetable.

"'Anybody supplying information as to the whereabouts of a Greek gentleman named Paul Kratides, from Athens, who is unable to speak English, will be rewarded. A similar reward paid to any one giving information about a Greek lady whose first name is Sophy. X 2473.' That was in all the dailies. No answer."

"How about the Greek Legation?"

"I have inquired. They know nothing."

"A wire to the head of the Athens police, then?"

"Sherlock has all the energy of the family," said Mycroft, turning to me. "Well, you take the case up by all means, and let me know if you do any good."

"Certainly," answered my friend, rising from his chair. "I'll let you know, and Mr. Melas, also. In the meantime, Mr. Melas, I should certainly be on my guard, if I were you, for of course they must know through these advertisements that you have betrayed them."

Bishop Clark and the Stranger.

The Right Rev. Thomas L. Clark, Bishop of Rhode Island, some years ago, while attending a lecture in Boston, observed a man sitting three seats in front whom he thought he knew. He requested the person sitting next to him to "punch" the other individual with his umbrella.

The polite stranger did so, and, the disturbed person turning his head a little, Bishop Clark discovered his mistake. It was not the person he supposed. Fixing his attention steadfastly on the lecturer, and affecting unconsciousness of the whole affair, he left the man with the umbrella to settle with the other for the disturbance, and this man being wholly without an excuse, there was, of course, a ludicrous and embarrassing scene, during all of which Bishop Clark was profoundly interested in the lecture.

At last the man with the umbrella asked, rather indignantly: "Didn't you tell me to punch that person with my umbrella?"

"Yes."

"And what did you want?"

"I wanted to see whether you would punch him or not."—Boston Herald.

That he would look so well as that."

MME. YALE'S HAIR TONIC

For Children and Adults

ANTISEPTIC AND HYGIENIC

A Hair Invigorator—Just what its name implies. It supplies nourishment, the elements of growth, which, when absorbed by the hair, strengthens and beautifies it in the same way that sap glorifies the foliage of a tree. Even when the follicles are seemingly dead, if the scalp is massaged daily with Mme. Yale's Hair Tonic a vigorous growth will be produced. It has honestly earned its title of "the great hair grower." It stimulates the most stunted growth and makes the hair magnificently healthy and beautiful.

Mme. Yale's Hair Tonic is prized equally by men and women, particularly when the hair begins to weaken or fade. Cures baldness, grayness, splitting of the hair, dandruff and all diseases of the hair, scalp and beard. One application stops hair falling. A nursery requisite; no mother should neglect to use it for her boys and girls; when the hair is made strong in childhood it remains proof against disease and retains its vigor and youthfulness throughout life.

Mme. Yale's Hair Tonic is a colorless, fragrant, delightful hair dressing; neither sticky, gritty nor greasy; makes the hair soft, fluffy and glossy. Contains no artificial coloring; would not soil the whitest hair; restores original color by invigorating the scalp and re-establishing normal circulation and proper distribution of the live coloring matter. Beautiful hair redeems the plainest countenance and anyone can secure it by using Mme. Yale's Hair Tonic. Now in 2 sizes. $1.00 size for 75c; 50c size for 38c.

Indisputable Evidence.

You have read our oft-repeated statement, "In use for over 30 years." It was in the early sixties that Dr. Pitcher first made use of the prescription now universally known as Castoria. With a record of over fifty, under five years of age, out of every hundred deaths, it was the AMBITION OF EVERY PHYSICIAN to discover a remedy suitable for the ailments of infants and children that would decrease this distressing mortality. In Castoria that relief has been found.

Let us take the statistics covering the deaths in the City of New York for the past 30 years, and here we find the benificent effect of a combination of drugs excluding opiates and narcotics so long sought for, namely: CASTORIA.

Of the total number of deaths in New York City in 1870, 50 per cent. were under five years of age; in 1880, 46 per cent.; in 1890, 40 per cent.; in 1900, 35 per cent. only. Just stop to think of it.

Until 1897 no counterfeits or imitations of Castoria appeared on drug store shelves, but since that date Mr. Fletcher has been called upon to suppress a number of these frauds. While the record for 1900 does not come down to our expectation it is owing to the carelessness of mothers when buying Castoria. The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is the only safeguard, and he alone is authorized to use the doctor's name.

"I DON'T WANT TO DIE," MOANS BOY

Lad Who Accidentally Shot Himself Declares "Mother Has Trouble Enough."

"I don't want to die!" said little Mike Mulligan on the operating table at the City Hospital. "My father died only a week ago, and my mother has had enough trouble!"

The hospital surgeons assured Mike that additional sorrow should not come to his mother by reason of his death if they could prevent it, and proceeded to do all they knew how to make Mike absolutely safe.

The youngster lives at 2017 Biddle street and is only 12 years old. Monday night a grown-up friend gave him a blank cartridge and this constituted Mike's sold explosive to celebrate Independence Day. So he got up bright and early Tuesday morning and made elaborate preparations to fire off his blank cartridge.

He had a pistol in which to fire his cartridge, but, unhappily, was not familiar with its method of operation. Just as he had loaded the pistol with his one Fourth of July treasure and was flourishing it around, he accidentally fired off the blank cartridge before the appointed time and was wounded in the right thigh by a fragment of the shell.

Precautions have been taken by the hospital physicians to prevent blood poisoning.

SHOT NEAR EYE WITH OLD BULLET

Gracey Was Furbishing Revolver Used Last Fourth When It Exploded.

When George Gracey, aged 24 years, of 1212 North Twentieth street, got out a revolver he had used last Fourth of July to furbish it up for use today, a 22-caliber cartridge which had remained in it was discharged, and the bullet struck him near the left eye.

City Hospital physicians fear he will lose the sight of it.

ACTOR CARLE LOSES FLIP

Tossed a Penny With William Cullen for a $15,000 Play.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, July 4.—Richard Carle lost $15,000 matching pennies in the cafe of the Auditorium Hotel. The winner was William P. Cullen, a theatrical manager. The $15,000 lost by Mr. Carle was not in the form of cash, but represented the United States, Canadian and 25 per cent of the London rights of production in his opera, "The Tenderfoot." Cullen bought the costumes, scenic equipment and then came the question of rights. Carle wanted $15,000. Cullen could not see it that way. The argument resulted in flipping a penny to see whether Cullen should have $15,000 or nothing. He tried to match Cullen and had "tails" to Cullen's "heads."

County Auto Ruling.

Acording to the ruling of Judge McElhinney of the County Circuit Court at Clayton, Monday, automobile licenses in both St. Louis and the county are for the period of one year from date of issue and do not expire Dec. 31, as was contended in the case of Dr. Edgar M. Senseney, who was arrested April 5, when he refused to pay a 50-cent fee to the license clerk. He was discharged from the indictment charging him with operating an automobile without a license, as his permit was issued in May, 1904. The clerk was sustained in his demand for the 50-cent fee, but Dr. Senseney's refusal to pay it was also commended, as his license, in Judge McElhinney's opinion, was still in force when he was arrested.

TRUST PACKERS WILL SURRENDER TO U. S. MARSHAL

They Are Then to Make a Claim of Illegal Custody and Petition Court for a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

POINT AGAINST SECRET SERVICE AGENTS' ACTS

Beef Men Contend That Use of Them in Gathering Evidence Was Not Legal and Evidence Can't Be Used.

By Wire from the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—The Meat Trust packers under indictment have decided by advice of counsel to all appear in the Federal Court at Chicago on Wednesday and surrender themselves to the United States Marshal. Then claiming they are in custody and held illegally, they will petition for a writ of habeas corpus. If this is granted they will fight the indictments.

One of the moves in the defense of the indicted Chicago packers will be an objection to the admission of testimony against them gathered by, as is alleged, secret agents of the Treasury Department. The attorneys for the packers will object on the ground that the employment of the secret agents on such duty was in violation of the plain prohibition of the sundry civil law under which the secret agents were employed.

The section of the sundry civil law to which reference is made is a limitation upon the appropriation of $125,000, out of which the secret agents are paid. The section specifies the purposes for which the money is appropriated and closes with this prohibition: "And for no other purpose whatever."

Secretary Shaw admitted that those who were known all over the country as the secret agents of the Treasury Department had been engaged in gathering evidence against the packers. He said it would be a waste of time to compel the packers to prove that the men were generally known as secret agents of the Treasury.

"The law says the money carried in that appropriation shall not be used for any other than that of detecting, arresting and delivering offenders against the counterfeiting laws," said he, "and it has not been used for any other purpose. The men who gathered evidence for the Department of Justice were and are employes of that department. It is also true that one time they were secret agents of the Treasury Department. When the Department of Justice wanted them they resigned from this department. There is no law against the Department of Justice hiring men who have resigned from the Treasury, is there?"

"How about the secret service men employed to guard the person of the President?"

"Oh, well, they work under a gentleman's agreement. Nobody objects to employes of the Treasury protecting the life of the President."

For months a secret service man from the Treasury has guarded Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador. At times the Count has gone to the extent of having that man, a young Iowan, arrayed in a uniform that has been irreverently described as a pair of pink pajamas. Asked as to how his services were given to the Count, the Secretary answered: "Oh, that's under a gentleman's agreement also."

FEW MILLIONAIRES ON NEW YORK ROLL

Rockefeller, Morgan, Carnegie and Russell Sage Make Modest Statements.

NEW YORK, July 4.—The final figures on the personal property assessment rolls, made public yesterday, reveal an inspiring condition of middle-class property in New York.

There are only three citizens who have acquired more than $500,000 in personal property. Mr. Carnegie is a very rich man in spite of his passing for buying the six best-selling novels every week. He has accumulated $5,000,000. John D. Rockefeller has only $2,500,000 in personal property, but Mr. Rockefeller plays golf, and golf is a notoriously extravagant game. By wearing $7.98 suits of clothes and eating apples for lunch, Russell Sage has managed to save $2,000,000. Nobody else has more than $500,000, and the $500,000 man is in a class by himself.

Equitable policy-holders will be interested in knowing that Thomas F. Ryan has not succeeded in accumulating $100,000 in personal property, in spite of his purchase of the Hyde stock for $2,500,000, and James H. Hyde pretends to have sold this stock for $2,500,000, is not even in the $100,000 class, either. Even Banker Jacob H. Schiff, head of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., who has been chased off the Equitable reservation, is worth $300,000. Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan has a modest $400,000, and Mr. August Belmont, who owns the Subway, has exactly $100,000 in personal property.

Perhaps these figures are somewhat more modest than the facts warrant. They prove conclusively that for purposes of taxation, at least, the New York millionaire is a modest, retiring chap, who scorns to make a vulgar and ostentatious display of his wealth.

New Probate Deputy Clerks.

Two new deputy clerks in the office of Probate Clerk Bruce Starke were sworn in Monday, James B. Lydon and Albert M. Lyle, the latter to be assigned to the courtroom and the former to desk duty in the office. The change was the result of the resignation of Chris Ghio, who had held the position of Chief Deputy Clerk for several years.

KING MAKES PEACE IN ASTOR FAMILY

Long Feud Between William Waldorf and His Aunt Ends and Invitations Are Exchanged.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 4.—To Edward, King of England, is credit due for a great achievement.

He has brought peace out of a feud, a social feud, between families of the New York-Newport 400.

The families are the warring branches of the Astors.

News comes from London that William Waldorf Astor—who got so angry in 1890 because his aunt, Mrs. William Astor, would not let his wife reign as social head of the family that he ran away to England, renounced allegiance to the United States and took up his permanent residence in London—is entertaining Mrs. John Jacob Astor at his London house.

It is said that William Waldorf Astor made this advance because he got a hint from King Edward, who has been much attracted by Mrs. John Jacob Astor, that he could do more to gain social prestige in the British capital by being nice to his nice relative than in any other way.

And William Waldorf took the hint. It is added that Mrs. John Jacob is making a great hit in London.

On the heels of this information it has leaked out here that when John Jacob Astor sailed for the continent the other day to join his pretty wife he carried an invitation from Mrs. William Astor to William Waldorf Astor to come and visit her at New York. It is said that Col. John Jacob had a hint to make representations to Mrs. William that such an invitation would be accepted.

And now New York and Newport are wondering what is going to happen next.

$500 PRIZE FOR THE BEST "MILLION" PLAN TO BE AWARDED SOON

So Many Letters Were Received That the Executive Committee of the Million Club, Acting as Judges, Need Time to Make a Decision.

The contest for the $500 prize which the Post-Dispatch has offered for the best suggestion as to how St. Louis may become a city of a million people has closed and the Executive Committee of the Million Club of St. Louis has now started on its task of deciding which is the best and most feasible suggestion as to how to accomplish the desired end.

The letters came in more rapidly than had been expected and the task of determining the result proved to be a greater one than could be accomplished in the short time between the close, July 1, and the date originally set for the announcement of the award, July 4.

Several members of the Executive Committee of the Million Club met Monday at the Post-Dispatch office and went over the mass of correspondence as well as could be done in a limited time. Suggestions were made as to the classifying of the suggestions so that a decision might be better reached, and the committeemen then adjourned to allow of their requirements to be carried out.

A second meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon to consider the correspondence as rearranged by their direction and to decide the winner.

The Executive Committee of the Million Club is composed of representatives of the various business organizations of the city and are men whose integrity cannot be questioned in making the award.

Each of the hundreds of communications will be considered on its merits and the announcement will be made as soon as the committee is able to arrive at a decision.

It has been an interesting contest for the big prize and a great many of the suggestions show that careful thought has been given to the subject. The range of suggestions has been wide and on that account the awarding of the prize has been made more difficult.

He: I presume you carry a memento of some kind in that locket of yours?
She: Precisely. It is a lock of my husband's hair.
He: But your husband is still alive.
She: But his hair is all gone.

LAURA DILL WOLF GRANTED DIVORCE

Prominent Young Woman of St. Clair County Also Is Allowed $250.

Laura St. Clair Dill Wolf was granted a divorce from Walter A. Wolf in the Circuit Court at Belleville by Judge Holder. Mrs. Wolf was also allowed $250 in full of all claims against her husband.

Mrs. Wolf is a daughter of Judge and Mrs. J. M. Dill of East First street, Belleville. Judge Dill is one of the oldest and best-known attorneys in Southern Illinois. Walter Wolf is Deputy County Treasurer, and a son of Phillip Wolf of East St. Louis, County Treasurer.

The couple were married over a year ago, but became estranged several months ago. Mrs. Wolf filed the suit for divorce only a few weeks ago, and, ordinarily, it would not have been heard until the September term of court. By mutual consent the case was entered on the docket for the present term.

Mrs. Wolf was not in court during the hearing of the case, but was represented by her attorneys. The defendant was there and gave testimony in his own behalf. Other testimony was also heard, and no contest was made by Mr. Wolf's attorney. A statutory offense was the ground on which the decree was granted.

The little girl was seriously burned about the chest, face and lower limbs. The boy was slightly burned and the four children of George Woods, standing near, were each slightly burned.

SHERIFF MUST PAY AWARD

Monday afternoon Judge Holder of the St. Clair County Circuit Court, at Belleville, awarded William Mohlman a judgment for $60 against Sheriff Thompson, as his share in the reward money paid for the arrest and conviction of William Hoffmann, murderer of his father-in-law, William Brandt, at Waterloo, Ill., in September, 1903.

Hoffmann was arrested near Belleville by Deputy Sheriffs Schaeffer, Klamm, Kaase and Ward, and the Sheriff divided the $300 reward among these men.

Mohlmann alleged that he was the man who gave the Sheriff's office the tip as to Hoffmann's whereabouts.

WOOING OVER; WANTS TRUNK

Mason Says Mrs. Guinan Disobeys Court's Order.

More of the troubles of a fortune-hunting title and a title-hunting fortune, the case of Thomas Mason and Mrs. Martha Guinan, in which neither the title nor the fortune ever existed, will be heard by the courts of East St. Louis Saturday. Mason has brought suit for $50 damages for the alleged detention of his trunk and clothing at the Guinan home.

Several weeks ago Mason landed in the city across the river and some minutes later was making love to, or, if his story is correct, was being wooed by Mrs. Guinan, from whom he secured a room. Before the marriage occurred there was trouble that resulted in two or three trials, in which both were vindicated.

Now, he says, he has yet to secure the trunk and clothes which the court ordered delivered to him. Justice Moussette will hear the case.

HE CARRIES A MESSAGE TO A SMILING GARCIA

Diminutive Messenger Defies Police and Dockmen and Boards Moving Liner Lorraine With Telegram for Young Woman.

PULLED BACK TO WHARF WITH ROPES

Lady Threw Him Bunch of Roses, Passengers Cheered, and Pee Wee Forgot to Kick the Dockmaster's Shins.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 4.—A. D. T. messenger boy No. 780 is the hero of the service today. No. 780 defied his enemies, the dock men of the French line, delivered a message to a fair lady, delayed the big liner La Loraine 10 minutes and was finally lowered from the moving vessel by a rope in the most gallant style, while the lady who received the message leaned over the side of the ship and threw roses at him.

A. D. T. No. 780 is exactly three feet one inch in stature, unless he has grown since his adventure this morning. His name is on the company's books as John Elmore. He is widely known outside the books as Pee Wee, or the Little Black man. His hat is too large for him—as is the rule among messenger boys.

About ten minutes before sailing a telegraph message came for a passenger aboard La Lorraine. It was couched in such language as to inspire deep and tender emotion in the bosom of the superintendent of the office at Christophers and West streets. He looked about, saw Pee Wee deeply engrossed in a stirring tale by Nick Carter and explained the situation to him.

In the meantime, standing near the rail on the promenade deck of La Lorraine was a young woman very pleasing to look upon. She was gazing anxiously, and perhaps a bit reproachfully, toward the pier. She held a big bunch of roses, over which she bent occasionally.

Just before the last gangplank was ready to go the waiting crowd saw down the pier two diminutive legs, surmounted by a visored cap, traveling toward them at express speed. It was the gallant Pee Wee to the rescue. The fair young woman's face brightened as she saw him.

The dockman spread out his arms.

"Too late, there—no one goes board."

Pee Wee said something extremely disrespectful out of one side of his face at the dockman, ducked under his arm, and ran up the gangplank.

"Well, I guess you kin go to Yurup, young man," said the indignant dock employe.

Pee Wee paid no attention. He had dived headfirst through a wall of passengers and brought up all standing on the other side. The gangplank swung clear. Pee Wee looked around to get his bearings, and saw at the top of the stairs the vision with the bunch of roses beckoning.

So impressed was Pee Wee that instead of shouting that he had a message for So-and-so, he simply handed her the yellow envelope.

"Oh, you sweet boy," murmured the young lady.

Pee Wee, with the modesty of a true hero, withdrew. When he reached the rail there was ten feet of space between him and the pier—and no gangplank!

A. D. T. No. 780 began to get scared. In vain he recalled Nick Carter and wondered what that great person would have done. He saw himself carried across the seas and "docked" 14 days' pay, besides being obliged to spend the Fourth of July in a place where it meant nothing at all. He lost his savoir faire, and gave vent to a long yell expressive of mental anguish.

This brought seven sailors and ten stewards on the run. The vessel was just moving. A sailor promptly looped a rope under Pee Wee's arms and thrust him overboard, where he came in view of the first cabin passengers, waving handkerchiefs over the promenade deck rail.

"O, they are going to drown a stowaway!" shrieked a woman.

"It isn't possible," exclaimed an excited elderly gentleman.

Between the ship and the pier lay a raft, by means of which the painters had retouched the soiled sides of the liner after her last trip. To this the sailors lowered Pee Wee, who was feeling like Robinson Cruso and Admiral Farragut combined. Then the end of the rope was thrown ashore and caught by Detective George Leeson, William O'Keefe, the Beau Brummel of the piers, and J. F. Carter, known as "The Politician." They hauled mightly and Pee Wee came up with a rush.

As he stood once more on the pier a big bunch of roses hit him. Looking up he saw the vision leaning over the rail. Her roses were gone, and she was bestowing a dazzling smile on A. D. T. No. 780. Under its radiance he again became the hero. He lifted his cap and the vision threw a kiss at him, just before the liner, moving out and tooting grandly, carried her from his sight.

Intoxicated with love and adventure Pee Wee walked toward his office, so bewildered that he forgot to kick the dock man in the shins, which would have been his ordinary course of action, and neglected to tell the pier policeman, from a safe distance, what he thought of him.

Among those who watched the gallant deeds of Pee Wee was Miss Julia Marlowe, the actress, and she cheered with the others. Miss Marlowe is going to Carlsbad, Germany, for four weeks.

HART AND ROOT REST AND TELL HOW FIGHT WAS WON AND LOST

Before 4000 People, Under Hot Sun, Root Was Knocked Out in Twelfth Round, After Victory Seemed Sure in Early Stages.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

RENO, Nev., July 4.—Marvin Hart and Jack Root are resting easily today, the one receiving the congratulations of his friends for winning the "world's heavyweight championship," the other being consoled while he tells his friends how it all happened.

Hart announces that the fight ended just as he expected it would, and declares he stands ready to meet any living fighter, barring colored pugilists. Root, strangely enough, makes no excuses, and admits that the best man won.

The fight, while not marked by a great display of skill or fighting ability, was a remarkable one by reason of the title at stake and the presence of Jeffries, who refereed, and at the end bestowed his relinquished crown upon the winner.

With only the blue canopy of heaven for a covering and under the blistering rays of a July sun, Hart knocked out Root in the twelfth round of the first finish fight on American soil in eight years. Nearly 4000 people saw Root go down to defeat after he had, in the earlier stage of the fight, more than held his own with the Kentuckian. In the seventh round all that saved Hart from a knockout was the sound of the bell. Root, in the seventh round, landed hard on Hart's jaw, almost simultaneously with the sound of the bell. Hart fell helpless and was carried to his corner by his seconds. Instead of following up his advantage in the next round Root fought cautiously and the Kentuckian freshened up. In the fatal twelfth he landed a right swing on Root's ribs, sending the Chicago man to the floor for the full count.

Jim Jeffries, who refereed the fight, declared the winner, and 4000 people who saw the fight cheered. The fight was fast enough for the crowd. Each man in each round tried for a knockout. Root did not show in his old-time form—indeed, he was obliged to fight against the weight of his heavy opponent, and while he outpointed the Kentuckian at every stage of the game his strength did not hold out and Hart appeared with each round to come up with renewed strength.

Battling Nelson, who was in Root's corner, challenged Jimmy Britt for a finish fight for a $5000 side bet.

Hart was seconded by Jack McCormick, Jack Roberts and "Deafy" Thompson; Root's seconds were J. S. Mackey, Teddy Alexander and Battling Nelson.

WHAT FIGHTERS AND REFEREE HAVE TO SAY.

BY MARVIN HART.

Root put up a game fight, but I knew I had him beaten from the moment we squared off in the center of the ring. As world's champion I am willing to meet all comers except negroes. It will be no "go get a reputation" with me, but the "first come will be the first served."

BY JACK ROOT.

Hart is the best man I ever met and he put up a square, honest fight. Jeff's decision was the right one and went to the best man. It seemed to me that I would "cop" Hart for the count sure in the seventh, but the bell saved him. The climate affected me fearfully and I was compelled to fight with my mouth open, half the time gasping for breath.

BY REFEREE JAMES J. JEFFRIES.

Root put up a splendid battle with his heavier antagonist and gave a great exhibition of pluck. The knockout blow was a terrific right-hand blow to the pit of the stomach and Root never had a chance to recover from its effect in the allotted time. As I have resigned, I suppose the victory makes Hart champion.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BENNETT PARK, DETROIT, Mich., July 4.—Pelty was hit hard this morning when hits spelt runs, and his lack of effectiveness at critical times, together with the poor work of the Browns with the stick in the "pinch," lost the game for St. Louis.

Roth, who was traded to the Browns in exchange for Weaver and Moran, made his first appearance in a St. Louis uniform and caught a fair game.

In the fifth inning Doran stole second base while Pelty held the ball in his hand, and a few moments later scored on the "squeeze play." Donovan, the author of the bunt, being touched out by Sugden.

Van Zant was the only player to hit Donovan with any consistency, one of Van's drives going for two bases.

FIRST INNING.

Browns—Rockenfeld drove a grass-cutter at Schaefer and was out at first. Stone flied to McIntyre. Van Zant fouled to Crawford. NO RUNS.

Detroit—O'Leary flied to Stone. Cooley walked. The crowd hooted Sheridan when McIntyre drove the ball squarely over first base and the umpire called it foul. McIntyre hit to Sugden and was out at first. Crawford popped to Koehler. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

St. Louis—Koehler popped to Schaefer. Wallace fanned. O'Leary and Crawford got Gleason. NO RUNS.

Detroit—Coughlin flied to Stone. So did Schaefer. Van Zant caught Lowe's high one. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.

Browns—Schaefer and Crawford got Sugden. Roth, making his appearance for the first time in a St. Louis uniform, drove on a line to Lowe in right field. Cooley was under Pelty's fly. NO RUNS.

Detroit—Doran flied to Stone. Donovan bunted and was out. Pelty to Sugden. O'Leary fanned. NO RUNS.

FOURTH INNING.

Browns—Rockefield fanned. Stone beat a bunt and took second on Donovan's wild throw. Van Zant hit to Coughlin and was out at first. Stone taking third. Koehler hit to Donovan and was thrown out at first. NO RUNS.

ACCIDENTS MAR AUTO CONTESTS

Boy Fatally Injured by Heavy Machine—Bruyer Breaks World's Record.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Paul Bruyer made a new world's record in the one-mile motorcycle trial at the first of the Morris Park automobile races Monday. Bruyer covered the distance in the lightning time of 1:00. A number of accidents marred the automobile races, and one of them resulted in a fatal injury when Paul Sartori, competing in the heavyweight championship race, dashed through a fence, striking a boy named Joseph Holahan. The machine of Roberts, a competitor in the same race, threw a tire on the last lap and overturned, flinging Roberts to the ground. He fell clear of his car, but had three ribs broken. Webb Jay won the event, beating Chevrolet.

While Dan Wurgis, in his high-powered machine, Red Bird, was whirling around the track in a preliminary spin before the races, the machine crashed through the fence, tore away 20 feet of railing and then overturned. Wurgis escaped with severe cuts and bruises.

The Thomas cup race, four laps (5.56 miles) resulted in a victory for Webb Jay. Jay also won the Diamond cup race at the same distance in 5:18 1-5.

WARNER WILL NOT PAY HIS FINE

Catcher Threatens to Quit the Cardinals—Hustling to Replace Him.

Jack Warner is out with an announcement that unless the fine levied on him by Manager-Captain Burke is revoked he will quit the Cardinals and go to his home in New York.

When the club left for Pittsburg last Wednesday. Warner declined to make the trip on the plea that he was ill and unable to work. Warner nevertheless was ordered to make the trip, but refused.

When the Cardinals returned home Sunday for the two games with Chicago, Warner did not report at the park in uniform. After the game Burke conferred with Secretary Robison and it was decided to discipline Warner. He was fined $100 and suspended for five days.

Monday Jack said that he would adhere to his resolution to quit the club unless the suspension and fine are raised. His leaving will place the club in a bad way for catchers. Monday Stanley Robison was trying to urge Jack O'Connor to go to Decatur and arrange for the release of young Pat O'Connor. Mr. Robison also announced that he would give the St. Louis semi-professional Leahy a trial at the position.

SCHRECK WINS BY TIMELY KNOCKOUT

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 4.—Mike Schreck won another fight by a knockout in the twentieth round, when he defeated Dave Barry of San Francisco last night. The fight was one of the best exhibitions seen in the inter-mountain country. The men paused for scarcely a moment during the entire 20 rounds. Schreck brought the fight to Barry all the time, but the latter's phenomenal staying powers enabled him to last until the twentieth round, when he went down from a left-hand swing to the neck after he had been hammered all over the ring. Barry was hanging on the ropes several times during the last round.

The men are almost exactly opposite in their style of fighting. Schreck fights from a crouch, while Barry stands up and leads straight. Barry did his best work with his left. His blows until the closing round of the fight appeared to be much stronger than Schreck's, but the San Francisco boy could not place them on Schreck's shifty frame. Up to the tenth round there was but little apparent advantage, but from that time on Schreck gained steadily, although Barry stood up to it in splendid style and occasionally straightened the eastern fighter up with a straight left or a short hook to the face. Schreck went down from one of these lefts in the sixth round, but was not hurt and arose in an instant.

CHIEF ADMONISHES VISITING BALL TEAM

Calumets of Chicago "Raided" on Arrival, Then Told to Play Good Game.

The baseball team of the Chicago Knights of Columbus, the Calumet Club, went into the game with the St. Louis team of the same order at National League Park Tuesday afternoon under special instructions from Chief of Police Kiely. The team had been met at the Union Station by a patrol wagon in respone to a riot call, and the members stepped from the train into the arms of a half dozen policemen. This was a joke.

Taken to the Four Courts they were held on the charge of disturbing the peace and then lined up before Chief of Detectives Desmond and Chief of Police Kiely.

"You can only square yourself with the police department of St. Louis by putting up a good game at the park this afternoon," was the Chief's final injunction.

The presence of Joe Quinn in a uniform as Captain and Manager of the local K. of C. team, lends additional interest to St. Louis fans. Congressman John T. Hunt as umpire also helps some.

During their stay in the city the Chicago men will be entertained at dinner at the Missouri Athletic Club and in the evening at Delmar Garden.

The following is the batting order of the two teams for the afternoon game:

Harrigan Scores Knockout.

PORTLAND, Me., July 4.—Duke Cahill of Lynn took the count in the fifth round of an eight-round bout with Eddie Harrigan of Portland at the Pastime Club last night. It was Harrigan's fight from the first. He forced the fighting, and after the second round hit at will. Cahill went down twice in the fifth round before he was knocked out.

VESPER CREW WINS IN HENLEY RACES

American Candidates for Grand Cup Make Better Time Than Leander Crew.

HENLEY, England, July 4.—The Vesper crew of Philadelphia beat Christ College in the preliminary heat for the Grand challenge cup today. Time, 7m. 12s. The Leanders, present holders of the trophy, defeated Jesus College in their heat by a length and three-quarters. Time, 7m. 26s. The crack Belgian crew beat the Thames Rowing Club easily. Time, 7m. 16s.

Then came the big event of the day, the heat for the Grand challenge cup, in which the Americans led all the way and defeated a strong Cambridge Collegiate crew. All anticipations regarding today's heats for the Grand challenge cup were thus fulfilled except that Christ College gave the Vespers a harder row than expected. A slight wind towards the Bucks shore gave the Americans, who had the Berks side, a slight advantage.

The Vespers got well away, led almost immediately, and at the quarter-distance were more than a length in front, while at the half-way post the Americans were leading by two lengths. At that point the Cambridge men made a splendid spurt and steadily overhauled the Philadelphians until there was only a length between the bows. The Vespers' stroke quickened, the crew gamely responded and the Americans completed a punishing finish with the advantage of a full boat's length in the best time of the three heats. Both crews showed the effects of the sharp struggle.

Brilliant weather, a great attendance and fair rowing conditions marked the opening of the great English water festival. Outside the Grand challenge cup, in which the Vespers and Belgian crews were competing, there was little of interest in the regatta.

BLOOD POISON MAN'S GREATEST ENEMY

The disease that has done more than any other to wreck, ruin and humiliate life, is Contagious Blood Poison. Sorrow, shame and suffering go hand in hand with this great enemy, and man has always hated and fought it as he has no other disease. It is the most powerful of all poisons; no matter how pure the blood may be, when its virus enters, the entire circulation becomes poisoned and its chain of horrible symptoms begin to show. Usually the first sign is a small sore or ulcer, not at all alarming in appearance, but the blood is being saturated with the deadly poison, and soon the mouth and throat begin to ulcerate, the hair and eyebrows drop out, a red eruption breaks out on the body, copper-colored splotches and sores make their appearance and the poison even works down into the bones and attacks the nerves. Not only is the disease hereditary, being transmitted from parent to child, in the form of scrofula, weak eyes, soft bones, weak, puny constitutions, etc., but is also so highly contagious that many a life has been ruined by a friendly hand shake, or from using the toilet articles of one infected with the poison. To cure this blighting, deadly curse the blood must be purified, and nothing will do it so quickly and surely as S. S. S. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, drives out every particle of the poison and makes the blood clean and strong. It does not hide or cover up anything, but from the first begins to expel the poison and build up and strengthen the system. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that it contains a particle of mineral of any kind. Book on the disease, with instructions for home treatment, and any advice desired, without charge.

DR. DUFF METHOD CURES BLOOD POISON

CHAS A. DUFF, M. D. Blood Poison Specialist.

My Serum Specific Treatment for Blood Poison is the only remedy known to absolutely cure the disease, removing every trace of poisonous taint and rebuilding the entire system from the damaging effects of any Mercury and Potash, leaving the patient with new flesh, new blood and in perfect health.

My method of curing Blood Poison is by Specific Serum that I introduce into the blood, and by its antagonism to the virus of blood poison the taint is ejected from the body, as well as the counteraction and removal of any mercury and potash poisoning. My serum treatment reorganizes the corpuscles of the blood, disorganizes, neutralizes and expels all poison from the system, and the corpuscles are renewed with fresh, pure blood, which supplies the tissues that rebuild the entire human organism, so that the whole body is restored to its normal strength and soundness.

My methods of curing Skin Diseases, Sores, Ulcers, Varicocele, Stricture, Hydrocele, Piles, Fistula, Rupture, Nervous Decline, Sexual Weakness and Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Prostate are unequaled and recommended by the many I have cured of these diseases.

CURE OR NO CHARGE—Absolutely no charge unless satisfaction is given. My patients receive a written guarantee to refund every dollar paid for services in a specified length of time if they do not receive a complete, lifelong cure and entire satisfaction, and my well-known financial standing is sufficient evidence to anyone that I am entirely responsible for any contract that is not fulfilled.
